Hallowe'en Window Painting Contest Saturday

The annual Hallowe'en window painting contest sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce through the cooperation of local merchants will be held Saturday between the hours of 9 a.m. and 12 noon. The contest is proving to be more popular than ever, as there will be somewhere between 375 and 400 youngsters in the sixth, seventh, and eighth grades of public and parochial schools taking part.

As in the past, the contestants will paint their pictures in the morning, with the judging to be done some time during the afternoon. A list of the winning entries selected by the judges will be turned over to a committee chosen by the Chamber of Commerce, who will post the ribbons, along with an identification card stating who made the drawing.

The boys and girls will be divided into three classes: one for sixth grade, one for seventh, and one for eighth, with prizes being given in each class. The prizes are as follows: first place, $5; second place, $3; third place, $2; and the next ten honorable mentions, $1 each. Two ribbons will also be given to each pair of contestants who are chosen as prize winners.

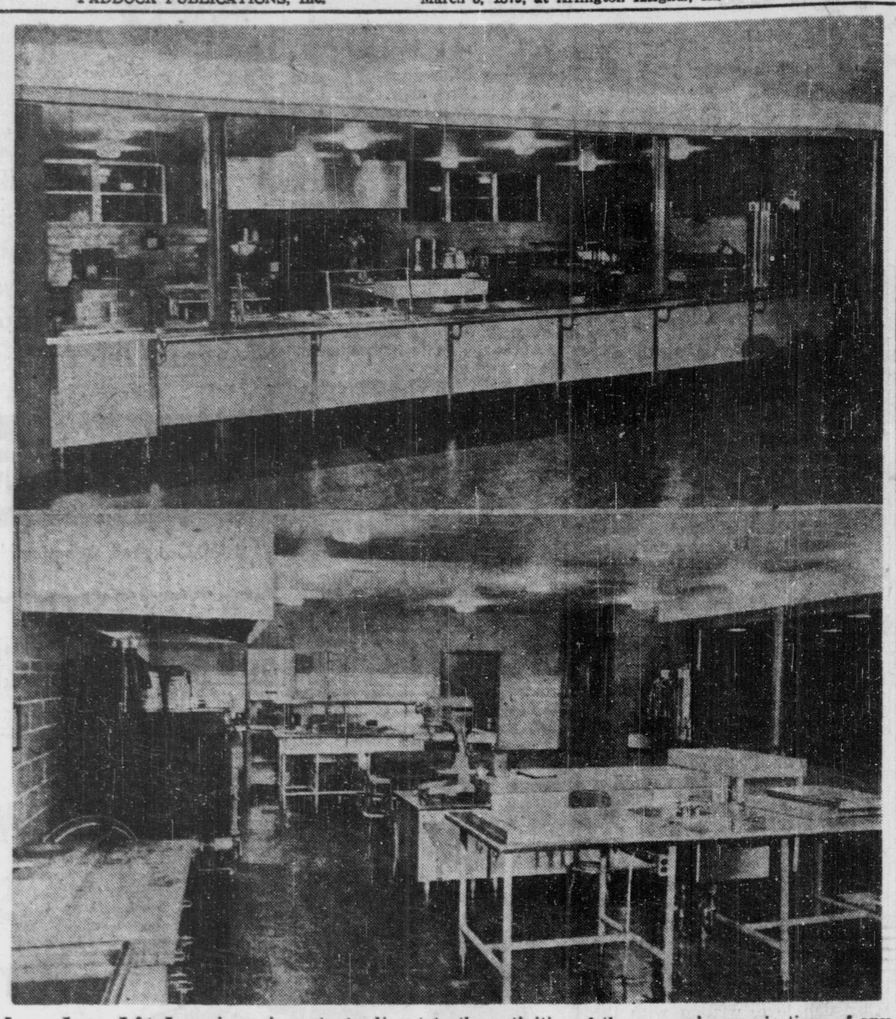
THE FOLLOWING rules must be observed by all contestants in order that their drawings qualify for consideration by the judges:

1. The sidewalk area around the window must be cleaned up before the drawing is considered finished. Paint cans, spilled paint, newspapers, and paint rags must be disposed of.
2. No adult may help the pupil with his painting. Should a grown-up or an older student help the pupil to do his painting, the contestant would be disqualified.
3. The painting must be confined to the space marked on each window, and all painting must be done from the outside.
4. The contestant may draw a small sketch of what he intends to paint on the window, but no drawing may be traced directly from large sheets of paper to the window.

In an effort to avoid as much congestion as possible, any contestant bringing his bicycle to the downtown area will be asked to park it in designated areas in the parks along the railroad tracks. Patrol boys will guard the bicycles during the course of the painting contest.



A modern kitchen is an important adjunct to the activities of the women's organizations of any church. The ladies of St. Peter Lutheran church, Arlington Heights, have a reputation for the class of meals served the Lions Club and other dinners in the basement of the old school building. Their work will be easier in the above completely equipped kitchen in the new youth activity building that will be dedicated Sunday afternoon. A number of special events will follow the formal dedication, including a light supper and a tour of the new addition.

Auto Wrecks Window At Arlington Cafe

Mrs. Ladas and her son, Zeno, narrowly escaped injuries Sunday noon when a car crashed through a window at Arlington Cafe. The driver, Miss Mary Lou Collins, 6029 S. Fairfield, had just left the restaurant. When she started the car it went forward instead of in reverse.

The accident also destroyed a neon sign. The impact was so hard that persons in the adjoining pharmacy were disturbed. Officers Bauer and Mueller were immediately on the job as well as Chas. Pingel and Eugene Heller who interupted their dinner, in order to get the window frame enclosed.

Annual Fall Rubbish Pick-up November 3

The annual fall rubbish pickup in Arlington Heights will be Monday, November 3.

No leaves, plaster, brush, lumber or garbage will be handled in the pick-up.

Final Report Reveals 52,000 Swimmers In Arlington Heights Pool

The recreation program at Arlington Heights recreation park surpassed all previous records this past summer with a total ot 100,000 persons entering the park during the season. This is the heaviest attendance per acre of any recreation park in the country.

During the season it was necessary to close the pool only four days due to bad weather and the number of swimmers entering the pool during the entire period totaled 52,566. The organized swimming program had 9,300 participants for the season, with 703 being taught to swim or graduating from advanced swimming classes. This was the largest organized swimming instruction program in the Chicago area.

The playground program had 11,665 participants throughout the summer, taking part in tennis, baseball, handicraft, volleyball or shuffleboard. There were three baseball teams in competition with Barrington and Park Ridge, with two of the teams winning first places.

One hundred and eighty-five boys took part in the organized baseball program.

Brush and Grass Fires Bring Many Calls For Help

Sunday afternoon was a nice day to burn leaves, but the neglect of three Arlington residents to safeguard their fires brought calls for help. They were on Bristol, South Vail and South Pine. Only one such fire on South Dunton was chalked up for Monday.

Tuesday drew a blank, but Wednesday morning there were two within two minutes of each other. Due to the excited woman who reported on the fires, the fire department was called out. It was easily extinguished. Village employees "stamp out" many of the fires.

Chief Bierman of Mount Prospect, told three residents of that village Sunday that due to the high wind any fire started by them would be their own responsibility. Palatine will not sound the alarm until after the police investigate any calls.

Train Wrecks Arlington Auto

Mount Prospect police Saturday night booked an Arlington Heights car for speeding. A short time later, at 9:02 p. m. the same car, abandoned by a different driver, was totally demolished when hit by a Chicago bound train at the Central road crossing.

Aaron L. Hansen, 28, Chicago, told local police he had turned right off Prospect ave. to cross the railroad when the rear wheels of the car he was driving slipped off the west side of the road onto the tracks. Harry Griffith, 20, Arlington Heights, a passenger in the car, was unable to help lift the car back onto the road before the passenger train due in Mount Prospect at 8:46 came along.

THE CAR, which belonged to Sally Richmeier, 402 N. Chestnut, Arlington Heights, was carried 600 feet east before the train stopped.

There is a stop sign for traffic on Prospect ave. at the intersection.

Three persons were slightly injured in an accident at Main st. and Central rd. in Mount Prospect at 4:30 a. m. Monday morning.

John Rose, 19, of Evansville, Ind., driving on Central rd. was booked for not giving the right of way to a car on Main st. and for driving while under the influence of liquor.

John Nolan, 40, of Milwaukee, driving north on Main st., hit Rose's car, which in turn swung around and crashed into the Nolan car.

Republican Women To Mail Letters Containing Election Information

The Wheeling Township Regular Republican Woman's club will hold an all day meeting Monday at the home of Mrs. Quentin Ford, 621 N. State rd., Arlington Heights.

The day will be spent preparing letters with pertinent voting information to be mailed out to all voters in the area. The club expects to send out a total of 5,000 letters. They will tell voters what precinct they are in, where their poll is located and urge them to vote in the November 4 election.

A brief business meeting will be held during the day, in place of the regular meeting scheduled for the fourth Monday night of each month.

Planning Body Urges Prompt Selection of Parking Authority

Willard Walters, chairman of the planning commission, requested the Arlington Heights village board Tuesday night, to take immediate action to create a village parking commission and to consider the installation of parking meters along the streets in the shopping area.

He outlined orally several parts of the Stanton and Rockwell master plan report regarding capital improvement which the commission felt should be adopted and put into effect during 1952 and 1953. He will tender a written report on the recommendation within the next two weeks.

THE IMPROVEMENT recommended includes development of four parking lots outlined in the master plan. Two are located north of the railroad—one just south of the Arlington Theatre, between Evergreen and State rd., and the other along Miner st., between Northwest hwy. and Dunton. One on the south side is located in the railroad park, between Dunton and Vail, and the other back of Tibbits Cameron Lumber company, adjacent to the tracks and to be used specifically for commuters.

It is the belief of the commission that if the village installs parking meters along the streets the revenue from them will help pay for the cost of securing and improving these lots.

As soon as the board receives the written recommendation it will meet with a committee from the plan commission and members of the Chamber of Commerce to further discuss the matter.

Hugo J. Thal, village attorney, was authorized to start condemnation proceedings of property on the east side of S. State rd., from the south line of the John Mayer property, to the north line of South st extend for the purpose of widening the street. There is a jog in the road at that point which will be straightened out if the improvement is made. It is also understood the village needs this right-of-way for a sewer extension which will relieve the flooded conditions on the southside during heavy rains.

A LETTER FROM the Mount Prospect police department asked the village to supply police radio service for their department from 12 midnight until 8 a.m., during which time they have no service. A similar service is being provided the Palatine police department, on a 24-hour basis. The board took the matter under advisement.

The board adopted a resolution to add Dryden ave., between Central rd. and Northwest hwy., to the arterial street system. A copy of the resolution will be sent to the State highway department.

Motor fuel taxes alloted to the village for the month of September totaled $2,430.25.

Approval was given to permit stronger bulbs to be put in the street lights at the intersections of State rd. and Fremont and State rd. and St. James st.

Fred Scheuner was re-appointed chairman of the police commission by Mayor Goedke.

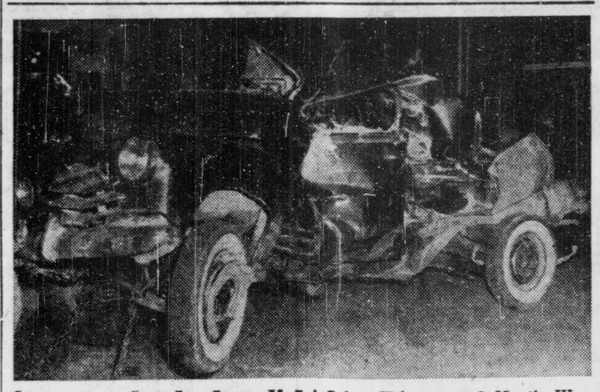
The meeting adjourned at 1 a.m.

Two Pedestrians Injured In Accidents

Diane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred R. Ainslie, 823 N. Walnut will spend the next six weeks with a cast upon her left leg. She had come home on the bus Thursday afternoon, October 16. After the bus passed, she dashed across the road and was hit by a car.

Andrew Uhlarik, 62, was crossing North State rd. Monday evening when he was hit by an automobile. He suffered a head injury and a fractured left ankle

The village board Tuesday night directed that larger lights be installed at two intersections on that highway.



Auto completely demolished by Chicago and North Western train Saturday night when it became stalled on the tracks at Central rd. crossing in Mt. Prospect. The auto belonged to Sally Richmeier, 402 N. Chestnut, Arlington Heights, but was driven by Aaron L. Hansen, Chicago. The driver and his passenger, Harry Griffith, also of Arlington Heights, abandoned the auto before the train struck.

Boy Scout Paper Drive Saturday

All Alrington Heights scouting units will participate in this seasons' first paper drive to be held Saturday, to assure that a large volume of paper, magazines and rags will be collected in record time.

All scouts and cubs scouts will check to see their own paper is tied in bundles and placed on the curb by 9 a. m. Saturday. They will also check with at least one of their neighbors to see that their paper is also on the curb by 9 a. m.

Cub scouts from selected dens of cub packs 266 and 255 will conduct the "Cow Bell" parade Friday night between 7 and 8 p. m. These boys will ring cow bells from cars, going up and down the streets until the entire village is covered. This is to remind every one to dig up those old papers, magazines and rags Friday night so they will be all ready to be put out on the curb the first thing Saturday morning.

Saturday two centers will be set up. Scouts from troops 32 and 37 will meet at the South school and scouts from troops No. 7 and No. 66 at the North school.

The trucks and pick-up trucks will start their collection on the east side of Arlington Heights and will ocntinue westward until the entire drive is complete.

Den dads of cub pack No. 232 will check to see if all paper has been collected by going over the areas already covered by the trucks.

Community Chest Returns Next Week

Authentic figures on the Community chest collections are not available as this paper goes to press and none are being released. Returns from corporations operating local stores within the village are not expected until the end of the week.

The reception of the workers has been excellent, if the report given by Mrs. John Ashton is any criterion. She solicited 15 homes on Carlyle Place, Stonegate. Monday night and by early Tuesday morning had 100% contribution. She said, "People received me graciously and gave willingly. I feel the results were extremely gratifying."

Others report similar experiences.

Frank Hall Appointed Supt. Of Mail Service At Arlington Office

Frank Hall, who has been associated with the Arlington Heights post office since 1932, was appointed superintendent of mail service at the local office October 1.

Hall, who began as a substitute mail carrier, is the first man to hold this newly authorized position. He was made a regular mail carrier in 1943 and in 1945 he became a regular mail clerk.

His new position puts him in charge of all carriers and clerks in the mail room.

Try To Organize Bus Service For Stonegate

Stonegate commuters in Arlington Heights will be given an opportunity to have an organized bus service from the railroad station to their subdivision.

A trial run was started Wednesday by Harvel Motor Coach company, which has a bus meet the 6:08 p.m. train from Chicago. Commuters may catch the bus in front of Sterling Oil company, at Northwest hwy. If this meets with success Harvel will try to add more buses to serve the subdivision in the morning as well as the evening.

Commuters may purchase a 10-ride bus ticket for $1.

Woman Resident Wages Lone Battle For Safety Gates

Any lives that may be saved because of automatic safety gates at the intersection of Euclid ave. and the Highway, Arlington Heights can be credited to one lone resident of Arlington. That resident is Mrs. Walter Christophersen, 1010 West Euclid ave.

The lone battle comprised letter after letter that she has written to the Illinois Commerce Commission. It is true that the village board formally requested that the gates be installed, but it was Mrs. Christophersen who deluged the Commerce Commission with so many letters that almost in self defense, the Commission issued the original order last spring for the gate installation.

The last promise given by the railroad company for the start of the project was August 1. As the weeks rolled by and there was nothing in evidence, Mrs. Christophersen again got busy with her letters, which has brought the following reply:

"Referring to your letter of October 2, 1952, addressed to Mr. Parker, safety engineer, this office, Supplemental X Resolutions of the Commission were adopted, extending the time for completion of the signal and gate protection at the Euclid avenue and Northwest Highway crossings with the Northwestern Railroad in Arlington Heights, to August 1, 1952. Subsequently, the railroad filed petitions for further extension of time to complete the work, the petitions being set down for hearing on September 9th. No order has yet been entered."

"We are, however, informed that the railroad's signal construction crew for the district in which Arlington Heights is located, is now engaged in installing protective facilities at First ave. in Maywood. This job should be completed within a few days and the crew will then move to Arlington Heights to commence the work of installing gates and signals at the crossings there."

"At the aforesaid hearing, railroad representatives indicated that they fully expected the work at Euclid ave and the highway to be completed before the end of this year."

Paddock Publications were assured Tuesday by the signal department of the Chicago and Northwestern Ry. that actual start on the work will be November 15 and that the first gates to be installed will be at Euclid avenue, adjacent to the home of Mrs. Christophersen.

She attributes her activities to the number of near accident misses that she has observed at the crossing. She long ago gave up her efforts to interest other neighbors in the matter.

Son Of Former Pastor To Officiate At Services

The new $175,000 activity building of St. Peter Lutheran church, Arlington Heights, will be dedicated Sunday afternoon, at 3 p.m. The formal opening of the doors will be held prior to the service and guests are asked to assemble in front of the west door.

Rev. Adolph R. Noack, Remsen, Ia., son of the late Rev. C. M. Noack, Arlington Heights, will be guest speaker. Others participating in the service will be Rev. Luther V. Stephan, local pastor, and Donald Hermann, music director of St. Peter church and school, who will preside at the organ and direct the choirs. Representatives of the Northern Illinois District of the Lutheran church-Missouri Synod, and of Concordia college, River Forest, will make brief addresses.

A light supper and an informal open house will be held following the service, the supper being prepared by the ladies of the church. All friends and former members of the congregation are invited to attend.

REV. A. R. NOACK

THE ACTIVITY building, built of buff brick, provides space and facilities for the use of every member and friend of the congregation. Church functions for the general area and local community affairs may also be accommodated in the large structure.

The auditorium, which will also double for a gymnasium, is 82 by 58 feet and seats 700 persons. A modern ventilating system has been installed. The stage, 24 by 45 feet, is fully equipped with proscenium and stage lighting and velvet draperies. The gymnasium will be used daily by the 365 children in the Christian day school. A daily physical education program has been launched by the school. The dining hall will also be used daily for the school's hot lunch program, sponsored by the Mothers' club.

Below the stage will be found a modern, stainless steel kitchen, 26 by 49 feet. It has glazed tile walls, grease-proof asphalt tile floor, range hood and exhaust fan, and separate store rooms, as well as a sound-proof sliding panel at the cafeteria counter to close off the kitchen from the dining hall. The stainless steel equipment was furnished by the ladies of the church.

The dining hall, directly below the auditorium, is 53 by 58 feet and seats 375 persons. It is beautifully equipped with asphalt tile floor, draw drapes, a celotex ceiling and ventilating system.

TWO SEPARATE meeting rooms adjoining the dining hall complete the addition. One measures 26 by 30 feet and will be used primarily by the three ladies' societies, though it will serve other organizations as well. A kitchenette will be found to the south of this room. It is equipped with refrigerator, electric stove, sinks and shelving, two small store rooms and a lavatory. It has a separate entrance from Eastman st.

The other room is 18 by 26 and will be used primarily as an assembly room for the beginner's department of the Sunday school. Equipment in the new wing cost $20,000.

A passageway connects the activity building with the present Lutheran school building. It it attractively constructed of panel boards inside and out. A second boiler and oil burner has been installed to take care of heating the additional space.

Charles Klopp, Palatine, was the building architect. Walter F. Hagestad was chairman of the central building committee and John C. Pfingsten was chairman of the building committee. Chairman of the equipment committee was Oscar Hinrichs.

The zoning board of appeals, Arlington Heights, will resume its public hearing on the rezoning of the Pfluger property on S. State rd., from residential to commercial use, Monday, at 8 p. m., at the village hall.

The property if rezoned will be used for a modern shopping center to be erected by John Lindstrom, Inc. It is located in the 300 block on the east side of State road, between Grove and South sts.

Locked Mercury Stolen From Back Yard

A 1951 black Mercury belonging to William Sauerland, Algonquin rd., Arlington Heights, was stolen Tuesday night from the back yard of his home. The car was locked.

The thieves overlooked a 1952 Ford station wagon, which was also parked in the yard and was not locked.

County highway police are broadcasting a description of the auto which bears an Illinois license plate, Number 610-044.

Wild Asks Village to Study Proposed Wilke Road Project

A. F. Wild appeared before the Arlington Heights village board Tuesday night to inform members of the proposed housing project contemplated along Wilke rd., south of the race track and running west to Rohlwing rd. The developer, Kimball Hill and Associates, plans to erect 2,000 homes on the 500-acre tract, which will sell for just under $11,000, including sewer, water and street improvements.

Wild felt since the land was within the village's jurisdictional boundaries they might want to study the effect such a development would have on the community. All of the land lies within the Palatine grade school district, with only a small portion of it being in the Arlington Heights high school district. It is also understood the developers plan to make the subdivision an independent area by erecting its own shopping center and school.

W. C. WALTERS, chairman of the planning commission, pointed out to the board that the engineers report prepared by Stanton and Rockwell called for the development of that area into two-acre country home sites. A development of this type would only allow 250 homes, instead of a possible 2,000.

The board has received no notification of the rezoning of the property for residential purposes to date and can take no definite action until such notification is received.

National prefebricated homes were denied a permit to build one of their homes at Chestnut and Orchard aves. Since the home does not meet with the village building code on four different counts, the board did not feel it was in a position to grant a variance.

Tower Homes, which is erecting 28 homes at Dryden and Frederick and a few at Frederick and Douglas, was granted permission to lay a 7 inch macadam road on Frederick, between Hickory and Beverley to allow them ingress and egress to the property. This will not be accepted as a village street, though a proper grade will be included in the improvement. Tower Homes will dedicate to the village lots 13, 14 and 15, in block 2, fronting Frederick st.

ARLINGTON PLATING company, 11 S. State rd., was granted permission to face its building with haydite or concrete block. The company is operating on a non-conforming basis in a commercial zone and needed board action before it could make any improvements to the building. Since the vote was 3-2 in favor of the improvement, Mayor Albert W. Goedke cast a fourth vote in favor. Trustees Edward Carlyle and David Zimmerman were opposed.

The board will notify the Illinois State Athletic commission that it plans to hold a referendum in the village at its election next April to vote on whether or not to permit professional wrestling matches to be staged in the community. The Veterans of Foreign Wars, Post 981, Arlington Heights, were granted permission to hold a match in the village December 13.

Residents along E. Davis st. in the Scarsdale subdivision who desire to have their broken sidewalk removed may have it done by the village at no expense to them. Those desiring to keep the walk in front of their home must repair it or they will be held responsible if any damage is done as a result of its condition.

A permit for a new Shell gas station at the corner of Kasper ave. and Northwest hwy. was approved by the board. The station will be erected by Tony Koske.

TB Mobile X-Ray Unit To Be In Arlington Monday

Free chest X-rays will be offered residents 15 years old and over, Monday, October 27, when a mobile unit is parked at the village hall, 101 W. Davis st., Arlington Heights.

X-raying hours are from 12 noon to 6 p. m.

The unit intended to serve as an adjuncts to the routine community, industry, food handler and school surveys conducted in various parts of the year, is available primarily to persons needing large 14x17 inch X-rays for pre-employment, pre-marital, prenatal, and licensing purposes, or as follow-up to suspicious signs found in small-film surveys. However, since the unit can take small "survey" X-rays, too, persons who have not checked their chests for TB within the past year, can do so at this time.

The unit, scheduled to visit this community the fourth Monday of every other month, is being provided by the Suburban Cook County Tuberculosis Sanitarium district in cooperation with the Christmas Seal-sponsored Tuberculosis Institute of Chicago and Cook county and municipal health departments.

Although "The Fragile Years" might be called another novel about Claudia, since it takes up immediately after those dark days following her oldest son's death, it stands as a separate entity, complete in its own story, and entirely comprehensible to those who may not have read any or all of the preceding novels.

"Empress of Byzantium" by Helen A. Mahler. Historical novel based on authentic source material of Byzantium at the blue shores of the Bosphorus, the center of the vast East Roman Empire.

"Pigs Have Wings" by P. G. Wodehouse. One of the most outrageous and rollicking Wodehouse yarns ever to flow from the pen of this inimitable master. Other new novels: "Dear Emily" by Constantine FitzGibbon; "Saturday Night Is My Delight" by Torrey Hood; "The Heir of Douglas" by Lillian de La Torre.

NON-FICTION: "What God Has Joined Together" by Gustave Thibon. This is the first of Thibon's works to appear in English. A critic says: "This essay on Christian love, written with the great care that characterises Thibon's work, is a welcome change from too many mediocre works; it is thoughtful and thought out."

"The Blue and the Gray" by Henry Steele Commager, the story of the Civil War as told by participants, in two volumes.

Rudyard Kipling's Verse, 1950 edition.

Music has a strange power and a brave history. But how did man begin to make music? "How Man Made Music" is the story of the writing of music and its great masters, its playing and its players. Author: Fannie R. Buchanan.

Hines Lumber Co. Buys Mt. Prospect Mill & Lumber Property

The real estate, trucks and lumber stock of Prospect Mill & Lumber Co. was sold at auction last week. There was spirited bidding, the proceeds exceeding the expectations of the auctioneers, Michael Tauber, Co.

Hines Lumber Co. purchased for $33,000 the grounds and buildings. A large part of the lumber stock went to Veenstra Lumber Co. of Racine. The Hines Co. will take possession Friday and expects to have the yard in operation as soon as it can be stocked.

According to Mr. James F. Mahoney, vice-president in charge of the Chicago retail operations, Edward Hines Lumber Co. purchased the Prospect Mill and Lumber Co. In line with their program for expansion in the northwest suburban area of Chicago, they are going to continue operations at this yard immediately and are planning extensive remodeling and modernizing to bring it up to the standards of the other branch yards in the Chicago area.

This expansion in the northwest area runs in two phases. They are relocating their Park Ridge yard on Touhy avenue, Park Ridge. They purchased a large piece of property at the corner of Busse and Northwest highway and in the spring of 1953 will build a large modern lumber yard there. The Prospect Mill and Lumber Co. will be operated as an affiliate of the Park Ridge branch.

Their plans aren't wholly formulated as yet, but they are going to build a new office and revamp the yards to modern operations.

A representative of the company stated Tuesday that his firm always enters wholehearted into the community life of the towns in which plants are located. Announcement of the Mount Prospect manager will be made soon.

Palatine Catholics Buy Site For Future School And Church Plant

St. Theresa congregation, Palatine, has dropped its original plans to consolidate a school, a home for the Sisters and one for their pastor upon the Wood st. property previously acquired.

They have now purchased five acres of land, adjoining the village of Palatine on North Benton street. It is the hope of Rev. O'Brien that it can be used for a future church as well as the school house with all the auxiliary buildings. The school will probably be the first unit constructed.

The congregation has increased to such an extent that four masses are held every Sunday. The present property owned by the parish is little more than an acre. It is within the business district and lacks adequate playground for school children.

The new purchase, acquired from Mat Portes has a frontage of 650 feet on Benton street and extends one block east to Fremont street extended.

There are over 200 Catholic children of school age in St. Theresa's parish.

Arlington Driver Kills Seven Plate Windows And Parking Meter

Seven plate glass windows were smashed, and the store front badly damaged of the Northwest Office Machines at 15 N. Northwest highway in Park Ridge recently when a car ran over the curb and into the display windows.

Driver of the car was Leo Jewell, 18, of Arlington Heights. He and a girl passenger appeared to be uninjured. Jewell was driving south on Prospect. Upon arriving at the intersection of Northwest highway, he stated he had the green light and made a right turn onto the highway. He told police he lost control of the car while making the turn and that lights of an oncoming car blinded him. The car also sheared off a parking meter at the curb.

Did you know we have many well known poets in third grade? Have you seen our Poet's Corner?

Last week our class saw a film entitled "Autumn Is an Adventure." It was a most colorful film, showing leaves changing their dress, squirrels gathering nuts for winter, farmers picking pumpkins for Hallowe'en, and flocks of birds getting ready to fly South.

The film was a useful tool in stimulating the children to want to write poems about Autumn. Here are some examples of our most recent self-expression through poetry.

Leaves In Fall

Leaves are falling on the ground,
They are falling by the pound.
Leaves are falling under the sun,
You can count them by the ton.
People are raking, leaves are baking.
What are you making?
You can guess, what a mess,
That's what I confess.
John Ninnemann.

In Fall

Leaves come swirling down
When autumn comes around.
Pumpkins start to grow,
Soon away they will go.
Acorns start to fall
For squirrels, one and all.
Jane Krause.

Autumn

I like autumn,
I like fall.
I like squirrels,
And the leaves that fall.
Flocks of birds
Fly up in the tree,
They fly away
From you and me.
Betty Schuette.

Autumn

Come all trees so big and bold,
Put on your dresses of red and gold,
For the summer is gone,
And the winter is cold.
Georgene Hall.

Squirrels And Leaves

Leaves are falling all around,
Squirrels get acorns from the ground.
Raking leaves out in the sun,
Raking leaves is always fun.
Mary Ann Walsh.

Falling Leaves

Autumn leaves are turning red,
It's time the flowers went to bed.
All the birds are leaving town,
When the leaves come tumbling down.
Hallowe'en is drawing near,
In the autumn of the year.
Ruth Ann Bostian.

Two Eagle Scout Awards Highlight Blackhawk District Camporee

Two hundred fifty Blackhawk scouts, scouters and families enjoyed double Eagle scout award ceremony, honor awards, and skits at camp fire program given by scouts of Blackhawk district, N. W. S. council, Saturday evening, October 18, at Deer Grove forest preserve in clear cool weather.

Jordon Minerva, assistant scout executive, highly complimented the parents of John McClaughry, of troop 7, Arlington Heights and Joe Charles of troop 53, Mt. Prospect, for their ceaseless efforts in encouraging their sons to continue on the difficult and seemingly endless trail of scout achievement which leads to the highest honor in scouting, the Eagle scout award.

The Eagle scout award is given for outstanding achievement which includes the mastering of 25 difficult subjects nearly all of which are required and applying the principles of the Scout Oath and Law in their daily living. He also pointed out that Joe, who is only 13 years old, is the youngest Scout to ever receive this high honor in N. W. S. council.

Group Asks Funds To Oppose Hike In Northwestern Fares

The Commuters Association of Chicagoland has filed an intervening petition with the Illinois Commerce Commission asking that the Chicago & Northwestern Railway be denied any further increase in suburban fares or, if any increase is granted, that suburban service be improved in both quality and quantity to justify the boost.

Every commuter is being asked by the association to send in $2, $5, $10 or whatever he can afford to finance this fight. Checks or money orders can be mailed to Commuters Association of Chicagoland, 1 N. LaSalle st., Chicago 2, Ill.

The petition points out that since 1942 the railroad has been granted nine rate increases. (The increase now being sought would range from 20 to 38%).

It illustrates the deterioration of the service which has accompanied these rate increases with such examples as the road's use of locomotives ranging in age from 29 to a venerable 48 years; passenger cars that have been clattering up and down the lines for as many as 42 years, reduction in the number of trains operating, and slowing-down of schedules so that "trains are moving with far greater leisureliness than they did 20 years ago."

The document concludes with the statement that the Northwestern has "failed, omitted and neglected to provide adequate suburban transportation service to the communities involved," and that it "does not contemplate any offer or promise any improvement in service."

Any increase in fare, regardless of the amount, would be unjust and unconscionable unless it is accompanied by improvement in equipment and service, the petition avows.

Civil Service Exams

Civil service commission announced its 1952 junior management assistant examination for filling positions paying entrance salaries of $3,410 and $4,205 a year in various federal agencies. To qualify, applicants must pass two written tests and have had appropriate education or experience.

Applications must be filed with the commission's Washington office not later than November 13.

The conference is sponsored by the Illinois Modern Language Teachers Association, the Illinois Chapter of the American Association of Teachers of French, the Illinois Chapter of the American Association of Teachers of Spanish, and the Chicago Chapter of the American Association of Teachers of German in cooperation with the College of Education of the University of Illinois.

Attend Training Meeting

Four students accompanied Mary Handlin and Mrs. Ellen Courtney, home economics teachers at Arlington Heights high school, to the Future Homemakers of America, section 20 leadership training meeting October 11. The meeting was held in the LaSalle hotel in Chicago.

Students who atended were: Marilyn Behrens, Jeanette Drewes, Florence Reckamp and Jane Wiederhold, all members of the Arlington Heights chapter of the FHA.

A training session was held to acquaint local officers with their duties. A representative of the Illinois Chain Store Council of Chicago led a discussion on public relations and publicity.

The purpose of St. Catherine's guild is to further the work of St. John's Episcopal church and it's youth organizations. Parish-wide projects or those of organizations of the church will receive it's full support.

It is the desire of members to maintain a membership convenient to meeting in homes without the formality of parlimentary procedure. The hostess opens and closes the meetings with the Women's Auxiliary prayers and determines the theme.

Alfred Martins Report On Hair Dressing Meeting

Mr. and Mrs. Martin of Alfred Martin Hairdressing Salon, Arlington Heights, attended the 32nd annual convention of the National Hairdressers and cosmetologists association, in Milwaukee on October 19, 20, 21, and are back in their salon with the latest news about hair fashions and the most advanced ideas on beauty care.

The Martins bring back from the convention some exciting news about hair styling. "Fashions are making an important change. There will be new lines this winter in the coiffure silhouette and in contour designs," report Mr. and Mrs. Martin.

"We are waving 'goody bye' to the 'animal kingdom' in hair arrangements. The 'poodle cut' goes back to the poodles and the 'pony tail' is being pinned back on its natural owner. Hair styles now move on into an era of elegance and restrained regality. This changes comes in coordination with the entire fashion picture. Reflections and influences of the Elizabethan era of the past will pay tribute to the present Queen during and after her coronation. This will have a marked result on the clothes worn during the coming season and on the way the hair will be dressed."

As a result of the deliberations of the official hair fashion committee of the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists association, they predict that this new trend will be translated into an "arc coif" which contains the graceful lines and the elegance of the new season. At the convention, endless interpretations of this new trend were devised so that the women back home can quickly take advantage of this latest fashion.

The shape is the thoing, say the stylists. There will be no clutter or bushy effects. If it's becoming, a slight pampadour will be arched gracefully over the brow, wisps and tendrils of hair will soften and compliment the face. Waves and more waves is the news, on a skillfully tapered foundation so they flow rhythmically and they are placed to be most complimentary to the individual.

"Emphasis at the convention," says Mr. Martin, "was placed on keying this new era of hair fashion to the individuals to bring out their true facial beauty. It is a mode, too, they were happy to find, which lends itself to real harmony with the features for it permits a softness and a simplicity and a naturalness which is a departure from the exagerated effects of the now departed 'animal kingdom'."

Kupples' Klub To Hold Steak Fry, Treasure Hunt

An outdoor steak fry and treasure hunt are planned for the Kupples' Klub of the Arlington Heights Methodist church October 25 at 6:30 p. m.

Should there be inclement weather, all activities will be moved indoors, and reservations would then be made with any of the above couples.

Officers for the year are: Frank Palmatier, president; Richard Bronwell, vice-president, and Robert Isaacson, secretary-treasurer.

Presbyterian Smorgasbord November 7

Baked fish, a delicacy which will be remembered from last year, will again highlight the annual smorgasbord to be given by the First Presbyterian church of Arlington Heights November 7.

These and many other varied and unusual dishes including all the time-honored favorites, will offer an opportunity for everyone to "eat out" in festive style at a most reasonable price. Tickets will be $1.50 for adults, 75 cents for children, and may be purchased either at the church office or from members of the Women's Association.

Doors will be open from 5:30 to 9 p. m., and those planning to attend are asked to purchase tickets not later than November 5. Mrs. Warren Gawthrop, general chairman of the smorgasbord, has announced that ticket sales will be limited to 500.

Assisting Mrs. Gawthrop with the arrangements are Mrs. Clarence Hendrickson, purchasing; Mrs. Ralph Raveling, tickets; Mrs. Rex Brown, kitchen; and Mrs. Howard Froyd, table setting and decorations. Mrs. E. F. Thompson will serve as hostess for the dining-room.

Beginning at 2 p. m. the same day the annual bazaar will provide varied attractions, with the addition of a "snack shop" in charge of Mrs. John McComb and Mrs. Melvin Born. The shop will offer coffee, doughnuts and cookies. Superintending the overall bazaar arrangements will be Mrs. Wendell Prunty, Mrs. Ira Prouty and Mrs. Burton Butler.

Chairmen of the various booths are: Mrs. T. L. Archibald and Mrs. Fred Chiles, parcel post booth and wishing well; Mrs. LeRoy Knoeppel and Mrs. Arthur Martens, bakery goods, featuring a variety of home-baked cakes and pastries; Mrs. Victor Bernthal and Mrs. Geo. Tideman, gift booth; Mrs. Floyd O. Terbell and Mrs. Howard Lips, home-made candy booth; Mrs. Kenneth Gregory and Mrs. William Hannum, hand-made aprons; while Mrs. Otto Lisec and Mrs. Joseph Lohr will be in charge of the ever popular white elephant and green thumb" corner.

A special booth will offer "souvenir" plates bearing as their center design a reproduction of the new church soon to be built.

Mr. and Mrs David Zimmerman are in charge of construction of the booths. Mrs. Earl Riley, Bob Carney and Mrs. Jack Hosford have assisted smorgasbord plans by making posters for display in the village.

93.7 Bushel Per Acre Yield On New Corn

Pape and Guenther Brothers shelled new corn of the Martin Meyer farm on Wilke rd., Palatine, recently. The tract measured seven acres with a yield of 93.7 busneis per acre at a net price of $1.22 per bushel to the farmer after shelling and marketing costs were deducted.

Palatine And Barrington Teen Age Drivers Play Tag, Are Fined $120-Plus

The Barrington police department pressed charges of disorderly conduct against ten youths recently in the court room of justice of the peace Arthur J. Haggenjos of Barrington township, at 110 E. Station street. Nine of the youths were fined a total of $120 plus costs and the other youth was freed.

The charges of disorderly conduct were based on events within the village limits. A call came to the police department when a car crashed at a hydrant on Barrington road near Illinois st. Several automobiles had been chasing each other with one of the cars coming to a mishap. One skid mark at least 100 feet long was found on the pavement, the chief testified.

The automobiles involved in the disorderly conduct charges, their drivers and the fines levied by the judge are as follows:

Car one: 1950 Ford sedan. James Edward Lorden, 19, of 169 S. Bothwell street, Palatine, driver, $25 plus costs, and also $20.95 payment for damage to village property. Robert Lorden (brother of James Lorden), 18; Don Schwank, 18; Ernest Heiden, 18, all of Palatine, each $15 and costs.

Car two: 1950 Chevrolet. Ray Schneider, 17, of rural route, Barrington, driver, $10 plus costs on reckless driving. Gene Morgan, 17, of route 4, Elgin, his passenger, was dismissed in court. According to testimony, the Ford sedan was chasing the Chevrolet from the Forest Preserve into Barrington and around on village streets.

Car three: 1940 Mercury two-door. Robert H. Martin, 16, of 31 S. Linden ave., Palatine, driver; with Floyd H. Taylor, 18, of Palos rd., Richard Bartsch, 18, and Harry Hartleb, 17, of 321 S. Hale, all of Palatine, as passengers. Every occupant of the Mercury was fined $10 and costs.

The driver of the Mercury, the testimony disclosed, had been hailed by the driver of the Ford to take up the chase of the Chevrolet. In the chase, the Mercury and the Ford bumped each other, causing the Ford to land in a ditch after skiding at least 100 feet. The car crashed near a fire hydrant and damaged the valve box.

Last Chance To Pledge Blood For Red Cross Drive

This week the Red Cross is making a special appeal for type "O" blood needed badly on the Korean war front. Next Monday and Tuesday residents of Arlington Heights and Palatine will have an opportunity to support this appeal when the bloodmobile unit will be at the Arlington Heights field house.

A pledge campaign has been waged in this area during the past month and to date 300 pledges have been received, exactly one half of the goal set. Mrs. A. C. Peters, chairman of the drive, says, "I believe we will make a better showing by the time the bloodmobile arrives but we urge everyone who wants to donate a pint of blood for this worthy cause not to delay one more day. Make your pledge and get your appointment today."

ALL BLOOD types are needed, though a special plea for type "O" blood, which is the most common, is being made at this time. Regardless of what blood type a donor is if the blood meets the requirements it will be accepted.

Donors must not eat fatty foods for four hours before donating blood. Fatty foods include butter, cream, eggs, salad dressing, fried foods, pastries etc. It is desirable for donors to have a light meal before donations consisting of such foods as black coffee with sugar, toast with jam or jelly, lean meat, fruit, vegetables without butter, or carbonated beverages. Alcholic beverages should be avoided.

The bloodmobile will be at the field house from 2 to 8 p. m. each day. Pledges may be made by calling Mrs. Peters, CLearbrook 3-2000, or Mrs. Coey, Palatine 889.

Administrators, School Boards To Meet

The first scheduled meeting of the school boards and administrators of Arlington Heights high school will be held at the school October 30.

School board members and administrators from elementary schools and the high school will meet to discuss common problems and interests.

Dr. W. A. Youch, head of the department of education at DeKalb, will lead a discussion of the topic "School Board's Responsibility for the Educational Program and Policies of the School."

15,000 Additional Telephones Added To Local Dial Service

Another 15,000 telephones join the list Arlington Heights, Mt. Prospect and Prospect Heights telephone users with individual or two-party service may dial direct when the Skokie, Morton Grove and Lincolnwood telephones become dial operated Saturday (October 25) at midnight.

All telephone numbers in the three new dial communities change with the inauguration of dial service. The numbers will have the new exchange names Or chard 3 and OR chard 5.

This extension of direct customer dialing to the new Skokie area dial system brings the number of Chicagoland communities within dialing range of Arlington Heights, Mt. Prospect and Prospect Heights to 43, including Chicago.

Rates to Skokie, Morton Grove and Lincolnwood will not change.. Calls from four-party, eight-party and coin box telephones to the new dial exchange will continue to be place with "Operator."

Start of dial service at Skokie will climax two years of planning engineering and installing and an expenditure of $2,100,000. The cost figure includes a two-story addition to the exchange building, equipment installations and other related expenses.

About Your Health

Because many people confuse the terms tumor and cancer, needless anxieties develop. On the other hand, a recognition of the difference and the wish to have a positive diagnosis not only dispels the state of anxiety, but brings about an early detection of cancer if the tumor should prove malignant.

Every cancer is a tumor, but not every tumor is a cancer. Neither is every lump a cancer. A tumor is an uncontrolled new growth of tissue. Some tumors are benign. That is they remain localized at the place where they start, and do not metastasize or spread to other parts of the body. In general they are not fatal.

CANCERS, ON the other hand, do not remain localized, do spread to other parts of the body and ultimately take the life of the patient unless proper methods are used to destroy them. This procedure, however, is difficult unless the condition is detected in the incipient stages.

Lumps may be present in many areas of the body which, on examination, may prove to be congenital malformations or the result of inflammatory conditions.

TO ELIMINATE suspicious symptoms and manifestations, and to establish an exact diagnosis, laboratory examination of tissue from the involved area is necessary. This is accomplished by removing only a small portion of tissue from the area in which the suspicious lump is located. The tiny particle of tissue is processed chemically and examined under the microscope. If the tissue is malignant, an unusual pattern of cellular formation is noted.

Mainly, cancers spread to other parts of the body through lymphatic channels or the blood stream. All the cells in the body are bathed in a watery fluid called lymph which empties into vessels very much like blood vessels. Ultimately this fluid empties into the blood stream. For example, in cancer of the breast, cancer cells from the breast mass will follow the lymphatic channels to the lymph glands, draining the breast and localizing in the axillary glands underneath the armpits. These glands then enlarge and become hard.

COMMON SYMPTOMS and signs associated with cancer include any unusual lump or thickening, especially in the breast; any irregular or unexplained bleeding from body orifices; a sore that does not heal, particularly about the mouth, tongue or lips; noticeable changes in a mole or wart; loss of appetite or continued unexplained indigestion; any persistent changes from the normal bowel habits; persistent hoarseness and chronic cough, particularly when blood in the sputum accompanies it. It should be emphasized, however, that these symptoms do not necessarily mean cancer, but are an indication that they must be investigated.

The recognized methods for treating cancer are still surgery and radiation, including x-ray and the gamma rays of radium. Newer radio-active agents uncovered in this atomic age are now coming into use, but surgery, radiation and radium still remain the main methods of treatment.

Dormant Season On Even Before Leaf Fall Starts

Deciduous trees are most successfully moved in the dormant season, but you don't have to wait for the leaves to fall. Actually, trees are pretty well into the dormant stage a week or two before the leaves begin to flutter down.

And now is one of the ideal times for such transplanting, advises R. J. McWilliams, field representative of the Davey Tree Expert Co. Such popular landscape friends as maples, oaks and lindens respond well to moving at this time. But more delicate types, such as dogwood and magnolia should be so handled only in late spring in northern latitudes, though not in the South.

There is a big advantage in transplanting when the landscape is in foliage. You can better visualize your home grounds planting needs.

There are several precautionary steps that should be taken if you transplant in the fall. Insure adequate drainage and make sure the newly planted trees are guyed and staked against winter storms. Deep freezing of the soil is in no real danger if an adequate mulch of peat moss, leaves or even straw is laid over the entire root area.

Early fall is also a desirable period for bringing in attractive new evergreens. These respond admirably since they are never really dormant. In effect, they become well established before cold weather. In some instances they actually start new root growth. The Davey expert believes fall planting is often equal to, if not superior, to spring planting. Even in the Northern latitudes most trees can be moved whenever they are dormant and soils workable.

Favorites for Flavor

By LOIS SEILER

'Tis a rare person who can resist the delights of a smorgasbord, and another such pleasant event will be held in Arlington Heights November 7.

The Presbyterian Women's association's bazaar-smorgasbord will take place at the church, with the bazaar starting at 2 p. m. and the smorgasbord at 5.

Among the extensive array of delicious foods to be served will be baked fish, Swedish meat balls, ham, and a variety of casserole dishes, salads and cakes.

An expert at concocting delectable salads, Mrs. Gordon Gullicksen will bring to the smorgasbord an unusual molded shrimp salad.

Easy to make, this salad is of a creamy consistency and contains tomato soup, cream cheese, chopped celery, green pepper, onion, the piece de resistance, shrimp. Lemon jello is used as the conjealing agent.

The salad is poured into a fish mold and placed in the refrigerator. It is unmolded on salad greens and garnished with stuffed olives. You'll find it as appealing to the eye as to the taste!

Mrs. Gullicksen suggests substituting tuna for the shrimp, if desired. This salad is excellent to serve at luncheons or Sunday night suppers.

The Gullicksens moved to their home at 1020 N. Chicago ave., Arlington Heights, from Chicago a year ago. They have a son, Gordon, 15 years old.

A Sunday school teacher, Mrs. Gullicksen is also treasurer of circle 3 of the Women's association of the First Presbyterian church.

Shrimp Salad

2 packages lemon jello
3½ cups water
1 can tomato soup, undiluted
3 small packages cream cheese
½ cup celery, chopped fine
½ cup green pepper
Onion to taste
1 pound shrimp, or 1 large can

Dissolve jello in water according to directions on package and set aside to cool.

Heat the tomato soup and cream cheese in a double boiler, and stir until creamy consistency. Add the celery, green pepper, onion and the shrimp.

Blend both mixtures, pour into mold and place in the refrigerator. Unmold on salad greens and garnish with stuffed olives.

Ingrid Schueren And Arthur Schlueter Wed

In a single ring, candlelight ceremony October 18, Miss Ingrid Helene Schueren, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Earl Schueren of 545 Newbury pl., Arlington Heights, became the bride of Arthur F. Schlueter of Chicago, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Schlueter of Indianapolis, Ind.

Rev. Edgar H. Behrens officiated at the ceremony held at 4 p.m. at Faith Evangelical Lutheran church, Arlington Heights. Mrs. Frank Carr sang "Ich Liebe Dich," "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer" accompanied by Mr. Proyst at the organ. Candelabra, yellow chrysanthemums and autumn foliage formed the setting for the wedding.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a ballerina length gown of rosepoint lace over satin. Her fingertip length veil of illusion was held in place by the ornamental orange blossom cap worn by her mother for her wedding. She carried a crescent shaped bouquet of white roses and stephanotis.

Miss Joyce Sahlstrom of Chicago was the maid of honor. She wore an irridescent wine ballerina length gown and carried a bouquet of feathered fuji chrysanthemums and croton foliage. A yellow velvet hat and veil and wine slippers completed her ensemble.

Miss Joan Mary Cahill of Arlington Heights served as the bridesmaid and her gown was identical to that of the maid of honor.

The bride's mother wore a mauve silk shantung gown trimmed with sequins, and the groom's mother wore a gray crepe dress. Both wore corsages of cymbidium orchids.

David Schlueter of Columbus Ind., was the best man. James Oliver and Norman Skar, both of Chicago, were the ushers.

Tam O'Shanter Country club was the scene of the reception. The bride cut the cake with her father's saber following the buffet supper served in the Red room. Champagne punch was served in the lounge, and Dick Everett played for the reception.

The couple are living on Astor st. in Chicago and will take a trip to Mexico in December.

Among out-of-town guests at the wedding were the bride's godmother, Mrs. Theresa Wagner of Detroit, Mich., and the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Schlueter and son, Bob, of Indianapolis, Ind.

Barrington Music Club

Barrington Music club held its first concert of the season October 14 at the Barrington consolidated high school.

A short business meeting preceded the program. It was announced that the opera, "Hansel and Gretel," has been temporarily postponed.

Basque Pageant To Open Series Of Twilight Concerts

The stirring and colorful pageantry of the Basques will be brought to Chicago when the twilight concerts open in Orchestra Hall October 28. The twilight concerts begin at 5:40 p.m. and end at 7 p.m. without intermission.

"Euzkadi" is the name given the unusual production by this company of Basque dancers, singers and instrumentalists. Their program follows no orthodox format, for it is as unusual as the Basque peoples themselves. All of its music and dance are combined into a dramatic whole pageant that reveals the life of the Basques in its varied aspects.

Mary Wickerham, president of the Mid-West Music Foundation, under whose auspices the twilight concerts are presented, announces that a special price has been arranged for school children (60 cents) to hear Euzkadi and many interested departments —those of geography, history, foreign language, especially Spanish, as well as those of music and dance, are making reservations 100 and 200 at a time. Teachers will review the history and traditions of the Basque people with their classes before coming to the performance.

Presenting The Younger Generation

Just a Punkin'

Round faced, blond, and brown-eyed, little Stuart Dayton Morgan is affectionately nicknamed "Punkin" by his mother and father and coincidentally was born on Hallowe'en. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Stuart D. Morgan of 321 Drury lane, Arlington Heights.

The goblins and ghosts will help young Stuart to celebrate his first birthday next Friday. Poncho Panda is this little fellow's favorite toy and "Mittens," the puppy, is his favorite live pet. "Stuart gets around very well and has been walking since he was 11 months old," stated Mrs. Morgan.

His grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. John Knox Morgan of Arlington Heights.

Blondie

And now we meet a blond and hazel-eyed young man, Thomas W. Hames. Little Tom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Hames of 42 W. Robertson st., Palatine. He was 9½ months old when this picture was taken. Unfortunately we were unable to contact the parents for further information about Tommy.

Baby Sis

Sparkling blue eyes, light brown hair and a sweet baby smile are characteristics of wee Carole Anne Meyers pictured next. She is the 5-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Meyers of 232 S. Benton, Palatine.

Carole is the baby sister of a very admiring big brother, Robert. Robert is 7 years old and a second grader at Palatine community school. A favorite toy of this little cherub is Pluto, her rubber dog.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Joff of Edgebrook and Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Meyers of Lima, O., are the grandparents.

Toddler

Last in today's group of young folk is Kim Lance Davidson, blond and blue-eyed son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde W. Davidson of 145 N. Cedar st., Palatine.

This alert looking little fellow was 11 months old when posing for this picture. We are sorry we were unable to contact his parents for additional information.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

That it is possible now to know God, to find salvation and thus experience immortality, will be explained in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, October 26. The title of the Lesson-Sermon will be PROBATION AFTER DEATH.

The Golden Text is from I Corinthians (15: 56, 57) "The sting of death is sin; and the strength of sin is the law. But thanks be to God, which giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ."

Lesson-Sermon passages from the Bible (King James Version) include:

"Then said one unto him, Lord, are there few that be saved? And he said unto them, Strive to enter in at the strait gate: for many, I say unto you, will seek to enter in, and shall not be able" (Luke 13: 23, 24).

Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, include:

"We cannot spend our days here in ignorance of the Science of Life, and expect to find beyond the grave a reward for this ignorance. Death will not make us harmonious and immortal as a recompence for ignorance . . . Mortals need not fancy that belief in the experience of death will awaken them to glorified being. Universal salvation rests on progression and probation and is unattainable without them" (pp. 409, 291).

ENTRANCE AND BUS UNLOADING PLATFORM OF THE SCHOOL

TEN CLASS ROOMS ARE REACHED FROM ABOVE CORRIDOR

THE KINDERGARTEN virtually has quarters of its own. It is the largest classroom in the building. It is located away from the main classroom wing in order that the smaller children may for their first school experience, be separated from the large body of students.

One wall of the kindergarten consists of windows, one is of wardrobes and storage space, another has a counter, sink, and drawers, and the fourth is a combination of windows and pressed brick.

The children's lavatories are large, well ventilated and easily kept clean. In addition to the central lavatories in the classroom wing, lavatories are located in the kindergarten, teachers' lounge, and the health office.

THE OFFICE AREA, is at the left as the visitor enters the building. In addition to the school office and the principal's office it includes a storage room for books and supplies, a teachers' lounge, a health office and a speech and guidance office. Though these rooms are not large, they are well planned and are equipped to fill important needs of the school. The various special teachers such as the visiting counselor, the guidance director, the speech teacher, the vocal and instrumental teachers, and the nurse use these offices to good advantage. The teachers' lounge provides a place for teachers to relax when they are not occupied with the children. The principal's office is well designed to carry on the business of the school.

THE CLASSROOMS, five on each side of this corridor are especially designed for the learning activities of small children. One wall is enclosed in glass and has a window seat along its entire length. The long sun shade on the outside of the building provides for fine natural lighting but keeps out direct sunlight and glare.

The corridor wall contains a small ceiling-to-floor closet, storage space, children's wardrobes, cabinets, a sink, a showcase, and a long formica covered work counter. The children's wardrobes are modern and functional with all the doors opening from one master door, thereby reducing the confusion usually encountered while young children are preparing to leave. The outside of these doors is covered with corkboard for display purposes.

AN INTERESTING and restful view is provided in the front of each classroom by the use of green chalkboard trimmed with light brown pine paneling. A fluorescent light extends over the length of the chalkboard as an additional sight saving aid.

The formica covered counter is an excellent place for using scissors, paste, clay, and many other materials which might mar other surfaces. The sink in each room will be valuable in the teaching of health, science and art. The showcase on this wall will provide a place for children to display their work to other students and teachers.

In the rear of each room are a row of six reversible easels situated so that children may stand to draw or paint. These easels are portable so that they may be taken to the child's desk or put on display in the showcase.

The furniture in each room includes tables and chairs in kindergarten, first and second grades and desks in third, fourth and fifth grades. Each room also has a large round library table with several chairs. The teacher's desk is of modern design and is constructed of gray steel.

Flivver Flyer

Malibu Beach, Calif . . . Last week a friend of mine who maintains a small, four-place airplane at Clover Field, Santa Monica, invited me to joy ride with him up and down the Malibu, a twenty five mile stretch of some of the most beautiful sea coast in the world. Frankly, while he isn't the best pilot I've ever met, I had a wonderful time. And that ride kicks off this week's column because I want to tell you a story about my flivver pilot friend.

live in NewYo rk city, and own-live in New York city, and owned a summer cottage up in the Catskills. The long drive prevented him from spending the amount of time there he would have liked to. so he bought a light plane and thereafter flew up for a couple of days each week during the summer months. This went on for three years, but it was a five mile drive from the mountain airport to his cottage, which was on the shore of a beautiful lake, and he finally decided it would be smarter to have a plane equipped with pontoons rather than wheels so he could land on the lake and be right at his cottage. So he traded in his ship and bought a seaplane which he moored on the East river in New York city. His first trip up to the cottage with this float-equipped plane is the answer to my prayer for an idea for the week's column.

His wife tells this part of the story because you can't get a word out of him about the incident. She says that as they approached their destination, from force of habit he did what he had been doing for three years, circled the airport and let down gently toward the runway.

As they were about to touch the ground, suddenly remembering they didn't have wheels on this airplane and would crash if they touched the pontoons to the ground, she shrieked at her husband not to land. My pilot pal, white-faced, shaken, and cursing his own stupidity, poured on the power and they headed for the lake where he landed on the water and taxied the ship toward their piece of shoreline. Angry, and still muttering to himself over his dumbbell stunt of trying to land a seaplane on a concrete runway, he wrenched open the door of his little ship and stepped out — into nine feet of water.

Moral: Under no circumstances own a cottage on a mountain lake.

Forest River

The children of Feehanville school enjoyed a trip to the Brookfield zoo last Thursday. The youngsters and some mothers, together with the teachers, took their lunches and with chartered buses made the trip. All had a very nice time, and there were many heads nodding on the return trip.

October has been a very quiet month as far as Forest River is concerned but with the coming of November, the calendar is full. Events include:

November 1—Community club Hallowe'en dance, for every one.

November 15—PTA box social and dance.

November 17—auxiliary annual games party. Everyone invited and any donations greatly appreciated, 8:30 p.m.

December 1—auxiliary annual Christmas dinner (members only). Make reservations early. This year we will attend Behm's restaurant in Wheeling, 7 p.m.

December 3—benefit games party for children's Christmas party for Forest River only, 8:30 p.m. Donations will be appreciated.

The injunction proceedings pertaining to the Feehanville school district situation will be heard by Judge Haas Tuesday. It is hoped that this will be final so plans can be put into operation for the long anticipated building program. Feehanville is getting to the stage where all the other schools have been for a long time, overcrowded, and at the rate that the enrollment has increased, the necessity of a larger school will soon be of the most importance.

Any subscriptions to this paper can be handled by this reporter, as well as ads, news, etc., by calling either at her home or by phone, VA 4-8853.

In the Shadow of + + + The Steeple

by William O. McGill

There are occasions when the misfortunes of life seem to be greater than we think ought to come to any good man or faithful woman. It just does not seem right to some of us, at times, that the Lord should let his people have so much trouble.

But if we look carefully at the New Testament, we are likely to discover that the only comfort which the Father offers his people is comfort in the struggle. "In the world you have trouble, but be cheerful, I have conquered the world. Let not your hearts be troubled, neither let them be afraid." But there is no suggestion that the trouble will disappear.

THE WRITER of the letter to the Hebrews reminds us that Jesus, even though he was Son of God, "learned obedience through suffering." Since the Master was not excepted, it seems odd, in a way, that many of us should think that our service to him deserves freedom from troubles. Fellowship with the Lord does not turn the world and all experience into the kind of balmy view presented by rose-colored glasses.

I should not like to store gasoline in my basement, because I would be most unhappy if there were occasion for it to ignite. By the same token, I should not like it if several cylinders in my automobile stopped igniting gasoline. The other day, when part of the explosions of gasoline being ignited began to be heard through a leaky gasket, the car went to the garageman.

BURNING GASOLINE is a dangerous thing. Gasoline burning in the proper place, under the proper conditions produces an efficient and comfortable method of transportation. Wise design has reduced the danger of burning gasoline and put it to efficient use.

In the world you have trouble, Jesus said, but be cheerful—and put trouble to use. If you look at men's encounters with God in the Scriptures, you will discover that he has found men in trouble and has given them new life in their time of difficulty.

Feehanville School

The fathers were well represented at the PTA meeting Friday evening. It is encouraging to see so many fathers taking an active interest in PTA affairs.

Mr. Minerva of the N. W. Suburban Council of Boy Scouts gave an interesting and informative talk on the purposes and steps in organizing scout units. The PTA later voted to sponsor a cub pack for boys from 8 through 10 and a boy scout unit for older boys.

Another den mother is needed and fathers to serve on the committees for both units. Anyone who is interested should contact Jack LeVine, Clearbrook 3-4513 or Mrs. Stanley Haverkampf, Va. 4-2291. A meeting is being planned very shortly for the parents and for those who are interested in working with the scouts.

Ed Brookhauzen, Meadow Lane, was the guest speaker of the evening. He gave a brief resume of some of the difficulties which have had to be overcome and of the progress made in the past three years. The next meeting will be held at the school Friday, Nov. 21. Judge Sengstock will be the guest speaker.

The big event this week was the trip to the Brookfield Zoo for the whole school. Judging from the reports heard by this reporter, everyone had a good time.

Mrs. F. Sullivan, the room mother for the upper grade room, assisted Mrs. Cavett, while Mrs. C. W. Flink, Mrs. J. Dobbratz, Mrs. A. Kleinke and Mrs. L. Castre helped Miss Rudd corral the first and second graders.

The Brownies are having a party next Tuesday in honor of the birthday of Juliette Lowe, the founder of the American organization. The week beginning Oct. 26 is designated at Girl Scout week. The birthday pennies brought in by the Brownies goes into the Juliette Lowe fund. Each Brownie is permitted to invite one friend to the party.

The rooms will have displays of the students' work, and refreshments will be served.

No Dust on a Laurel

We have a motto: "It's dangerous to stop and enjoy a reputation." Of course, we are very proud of the confidence so many families have placed in us. But to continue to merit that confidence, we believe we must constantly improve our services and keep our facilities and equipment up-to-the-minute. There is no excuse for dust on a laurel!

Junior High Parents' Night October 28

Parents' Night for the Arlington Heights Junior high school will be held Tuesday, October 28. Each student will bring home a copy of his daily program, and when the bell rings at 8:15 p. m., his parents are requested to be in their seats in the first class listed on that program.

They will then experience a typical Junior high school-day, with its changing periods, subjects and teachers. Each phase will be competently explained by its particular instructor, giving parents a more complete understanding of the school's educational methods.

At the end of the class sessions, refreshments will be served in the cafeteria by the mothers of the seventh grade.

Parents' Night for the North, South and Dryden Place schools was held Tuesday, October 21. These Parents' Night's replace the regular October meeting of the Parent-Teacher association, the theme for which is "Know What and How Your Child Is Taught."

Prosperous Colorado

Colorado owes its prosperity to its unparalleled supply of minerals and livestock.

U of I Student Teachers To Practice At Arlington High School

Six student teachers from the University of Illinois will practice at the Arlington Heights high school from November 3 to December 12.

Four of the teachers came to the school for a conference October 20, and worked in conjunction with local teachers. They were: Richard Mueller, who worked with Miss Doris Black; Betsy Murlo, who worked with Mrs. Florence Elfeld; Clarence Feirisel, who worked with Miss Jane Mahin; and George Stulik, who worked with Reuben Conrad.

The other two teachers attended a conference here October 17. Peggy Beech and Kathleen Edmeier, who both worked in the business department under Mrs. Hazel Faulkner.

Cub Pack Meeting Friday; Invite Parents To Attend

Cub pack 232. Arlington Hts., invites all parents and cubs to attend the pack meeting Friday. at 7:30 p. m., at the North school.

CIRCLING THE TOWN

BY PHYLLIS KNIGHT

A new era for St. Peter Lutheran parish will officially be ushered in this Sunday afternoon with the dedication of the new youth activities building, adjacent to the school. Rev. Adolph R. Noack of Remsen, Ia., will be the speaker at Sunday's ceremonies beginning at 3 p.m.

Those attending the service may remain afterward for a light supper and an open house, and they will have a chance to tour the building.

This program is one of several planned by general chairman George Kusch and his committees to commemorate the building of this most useful addition to the church's facilities.

Other events on the schedule are a dedication dinner next Wednesday, the Ladies Aid card party next week Friday, an open house November 2 and variety night November 7. The public is invited to participate in any of these events.

The youth activities building is one that will be put to good use immediately and doubtless the future will find its schedule becoming even more crowded. This will not be used exclusively for school functions, though the younger generation will have first call. The building is also ideally suited for other parish activities, both for the ladies' and men's groups.

Leave It to the Children

In Mondays "every home" canvass for the Community Chest there was surely more than one home when the parents were reminded by their children that "this was the night to put the porch light on."

And at least one receipt for a gift carried the notation that the seven-year-old girl and five-year-old boy of the family had each contributed from the piggy bank.

Incidentally, it is not too late to contribute to this united effort to provide funds for 15 agencies which usually solicit individually. Should any home have been missed by the worker assigned, a contribution may still be sent to the Arlington Heights National bank.

Entertainment and Information

The board of directors of the Newcomers club of Arlington Heights will endeavor with this Thursday's meeting to provide both entertainment and information for its members.

On the entertainment side will be two scenes from a well known comedy as presented by eight members of the Village Theatre. The story tells of life among New York's Park avenue set.

Preceding the program will be the introduction of civic leaders of the village. They will tell briefly the functions of their clubs and organizations, in many cases inviting the newcomers to join them.

The evening, a mixed meeting at which husbands are included, will conclude with the "get acquainted" hour for refreshments and conversation.

For Fun and a Cause

Members of the newly-formed Our Lady of the Wayside Catholic parish have a two-fold reason for getting to know each other better—they are members of the same church, and they are, in a sense, neighbors, since all live on the South side of the village.

The ladies have planned a series of "get-acquainted" parties, and with these same parties will raise money for their building fund. Last Friday night members of the ways and means committee held card parties at their homes, to be followed by card parties at other homes in the future. A $1 contribution was requested of each one playing, and the hostess presented table prizes Mrs. Walter P. Stumpf is chairman of the committee.

Rubbish Fire Ignites Corn and Bean Field

Mrs. Edwin Fischer, Meyer rd. Elk Grove, was called to the phone a few minutes too soon Wednesday morning. As a result flames 20 feet high burned over an adjoining corn field. She was burning rubbish when the phone rang. She thought that the fire was out, but a few minutes later the field belonging to Elmer Jackisch was a mass of flames.

Mount Prospect Rural Fire department extinguished the blaze before it reached the Jackisch home.

The United States Department of State was originally known as the Department of Foreign Affairs.

Crime Frequencies In Cook County On Way Up

Cook county's crime activity has reached such an alarming rate that murder is committed on an average of once every 36 hours, a woman is raped on the average of once every 12½ hours, hold-ups occur once in every hour and 36 minutes, burglaries on the average of once every 40 minutes.

FBI figures, recently compiled, show that 92% of all Cook county crimes are committed in Chicago; 7% in communities outside the city limits; and 1% in the unincorporated areas served by the Sheriff's office.

In the 1800's a man's shaving mug was more than just personal property . . . it was regarded as his personal identification, for each mug, in addition to carrying his name in gold script, bore some gaily painted symbol of his occupation. The mug placed in the barbershop shelf was a mark of recognition and gave a man his standing in the community. Arlington Hts. Pharmacy is now taking orders for these old style shaving mugs by Sportsman. They are on display at the counter and should be ordered by December 1 for Christmas delivery.

The dearth of original occupational mugs today has made them very valuable and they have become collectors' items. Sportsman has created a line of 12 of the leading designs, exact in their reproduction of the past. They are made of white clay imported from England and are hand-painted in color with no two alike. They're just $6.95 and can be used later as planters, cigarette containers, etc. Stop at the Pharmacy and make your selection now to guarantee Christmas delivery. The designs for these mugs were inspired by the most valuable and best collections in the United States from 361 different mugs.

New Coronet Home Open House To Start Saturday

The Coronet, National Homes corporation's newest home and pilot model of the 1953 line of Nationals, will be open for public inspection starting Sunday, October 26 at 10:00 a. m. The model house, located at 614 Prairie ave., Barrington, has been built by Maxon Construction company. This local showing is part of a nation-wide promotion in which 300 of these newly designed homes are being shown simultaneously.

Architects, engineers and company designers have spent many months in developing the Coronet, and have designed a home which offers an impression of spaciousness. For example, the kitchen and living area flow together into what is virtually one large room, but can be closed off by use of decorative, folding doors into individual spaces.

OUTSTANDING among the many features, both in design and utility of the Coronet, are new aluminum windows throughout. Living room windows are ceiling-to-floor Thermopane units consisting of two banks, three panels high. Bedroom windows are the popular shoulder height, placed in a corner arrangement. The bathroom also utilizes the shoulder high window.

Bedrooms in National's new 1953 Coronet are spacious. Each has huge floor-to-ceiling closets utilizing the popular folding doors. The bathroom is large, with tub placed in an alcove. This provides adequate shower facilities, besides increasing the floor space. Two sliding mirror doors, built-in-lighting, and a full width vanity shelf add to the utility of the cabinet.

Lack A Closet? It's A Cinch To Build One

Even in a room without any closet at all, there usually is a corner in which the ingenious craftsman can construct a wardrobe rather easily with the aid of modern building materials. If there is no free corner, he can use the same construction principles outlined here to build a storage wall or a foot locker.

Materials often recommended for closets and similar built-ins are lumber and Masonite ¼" Presdwood, an all-wood panel which has a reputation for "having what it takes." Made by exploding wood chips, these panels have no grain or knots, they are strong, abrasion-resistant and easily painted.

The only guide needed for making built-ins like closets and cabinets is to use 2 x 4 framing and quarter-inch Presdwood. The vertical framing members should be 16 inches apart. Joints of the panels may be "eased" slightly with a sandblock, file or beveling plane. A slight gap at the joints is recommended for good installations.

Sliding doors may be made in the home workshop, following the same construction principles, or one may install manufactured doors with Presdwood surfaces finished in long-wearing, beautiful colors. They're ideal especially for a storage wall. Most lumber dealers stock the hardware needed for the doors and other home improvements.

There's no need to be "closet-hungry" when closets are so easily made!

NOW! your home can be Beautiful

DON'T NEGLECT SON SPOTS

Just because he's a boy, don't think that he isn't sensitive to his surroundings. Don't furnish his rooms with discards, and make him feel that just anything is good enough. And, don't go to the other extreme and furnish his room with such expensive things that he has to be too careful to have fun.

GIVE HIM A ROOM TO GROW IN

To have fun in! A comfortable bed is, of course, the most important consideration. Next, plenty of space to store things . . . shelves, cabinets and such. Use bright, clear colors for walls and draperies. And floor covering that's easily kept clean, like linoleum. Keep wall decor simple and flexible enough to change with his interests.

Before you decorate and furnish your child's (or youth's) room, we suggest that you come in and discuss it with a member of our staff. We have many up-to-the-minute ideas that you will want to know about. Feel free to come in . . . anytime.

Health-giving rest, so essential for proper growth and development, is largely dependent upon comfortable sleeping equipment. Choose the bed and mattress that best suits your child's individual requirements from our tested group.

A desk is a must in a youth's room . . . for studying and writing. Choose yours today from our wide assortment of knee-holes, cantilevers, and flat tops.

We have a fine assortment of furnishings for both boy's and girl's rooms. Good sturdy pieces that will stand years of hard wear, styled to meet the highest standards of taste. We'll be most happy to assist you in making your selections. Come in today.

American Legion Post To Burn Mortgage On Its Palatine Home

Palatine American Legion Post will celebrate Saturday evening the burning of the mortgage upon its home originally built four years ago at a total cost approaching $40,000.

The boys want all those who had a part in the donation of money, materials and labor to celebrate the event with them.

Following the burning of the mortgage, music for dancing will be provided by the Starbusters, a modern four piece orchestra.

The Legion Home is considered by the post as a community building and no charge is made for its use by youth organizations, rummage sales, etc. The original mortgage was $10,000, which has been retired from funds earned at the annual carnivals.

Ask Legislation To Tax U. S. Owned Property Operating on Rental Basis

Northwest Suburban Board of Realtors at its annual convention in Evanston last week passed resolutions asking that legislation be again introduced in the Illinois legislature that would enable the state to tax subsidized public housing and remove the tax exempt privileges from housing projects of all 'kinds and which will provide that all real estate operated on a rental basis shall pay taxes.

"If this law is passed," says President Clarence A. Hendrickson of the realty board, "it is presumed that trailer parks operated on government land would be required to pay taxes, which would include those at Arlington airport. At present the school board receives no funds for the schooling that the children of that area are enjoying."

Shun 'Bargains' Picking Trees, Gardeners Urged

You don't usually buy clothes unless you're reasonably sure they'll fit. Neither should you buy trees unless you're pretty sure they'll fit into your landscape scheme. And that's not so easy!

Take it on the authority of W. C. Lauck, field representative of the Davey Tree Expert Co., the best time to select your new trees is right now . . . while they're still in leaf.

September marks the start of the fall shopping and planting season. Mr. Lauck offers some suggestions that may save you headaches, possibly some money, too.

Patronize the reputable nurseryman or tree care concern, even if you have to call the local Chamber of Commerce or Better Business Bureau to find him. The "bargains" offered from dubious sources usually turn out just the opposite.

Don't over-buy, but consider the size of your grounds carefully. Modern city properties seldom require more than three or four major shade trees. In many cases, one or two will be adequate.

Insist on after-planting care for the first two years. Transplanting is a great shock to a tree. Therefore, you should have it inspected at regular intervals. Post-planting care also involves such factors as feeding, cabling requirements, pruning and rewrapping, among others.

When you patronize the established tree man, you will be provided with reliable information on what to plant in relation to soil, climate and other conditions in your area.

In The Future

Newest paint is stick-free—that is, hardly anything will stick to it. It is now being tested in bakeries to see if a coat in bread pans will eliminate greasing. Might also solve the problem of clogging in machinery handling tacky materials. And it costs only $75 a gallon! . . . Non-ferrous metals such as copper and aluminum are easily cold-welded with a new device. . . . A protective coating for cement floors is said to eliminate dust problems and acts as a primer coat for painting. The liquid can be brushed on with a broom. . . . Latest electric light switch has sterling silver contact points and operates silently and with slight pressure.

Two Arlington Girls Are Candidates For Homecoming Queen At Illinois

JAN HACKBARTH

PATTI RYDEN

Jan Hackbarth, 404 W. Hawthorne st., and Patti Ryden, 119 E. Harvard rd., Arlington Hts., are among the 16 University of Illinois co-eds to be nominated for 1952 Homecoming queen and her court of honor. Balloting is under way. Results will be announced Friday, October 24.

The Homecoming queen "Miss Illinois" and co-eds, representing the other Big Ten schools, will appear atop the scoreboard to hoist the various college colors before the Illinois-Purdue game Saturday, October 25.

Other events planned for Homecoming, in addition to the coronation of "Miss Illinois," will be the annual student stunt show, dances, Illini theatre guild production, departmental open houses, and alumni registration, coffee hour and luncheon.

The idea of Homecoming, a celebration built around a football week end in honor of returning alumni, was conceived at the University of Illinois 42 years ago by the late W. Elmer Ekblaw of Worchester, Mass., and Clarence F. Williams, Cleveland, O. They organized the campus-wide celebration in a pattern now spread far and wide.

The University of Illinois claims more than 235,000 alumni since 1868 when the school was started with 50 students.

ARLINGTON TO PLAY AT HINSDALE SATURDAY AFTERNOON

Pirates Must 'Win Or Else' Forget Title

Palatine high closes the home season of football games Saturday night with the new member of the Northwest Conference, Grayslake, the opponent. The Rams have won one game, lost two and tied one in four league starts, but have been playing better every time out. Last week they tied Antioch, 6-6. The week before they lost to Grant, 21-18. Before that they whipped Bensenville 26-0 and lost to Wauconda 20-0. On comparative scores they match up with Palatine for another of those very even games which can be decided, as at Grant, on one play.

Palatine must win or give up any title aspirations they have had during the season. The conference race has tightened to the point that any of four teams has an equal chance of taking the championship. The Pirates lost "Chuck" James, ace line backer and starting center, for the rest of the season with a broken wrist in the Grant game. He will be sorely missed, but there is no reason to think that any one man can spell the difference between victory and defeat if the Pirates really play ball.

They have shown only brief glimpses of the kind of football of which they are capable of playing. The chips are down now and they must play for keeps or get out of the race. Palatine High rooters think they will rise to the occasion and bring the school its first gridiron title. Saturday's double bill with Grayslake and the final games at Wauconda November 1 will tell the tale.

BENSENVILLE'S BISONS had a week off to recuperate and get injured players back in action. After four defeats in a row Coach Meneguin's eleven will have a two game home stand against Ela-Vernon and Antioch with hopes of salvaging some satisfaction from a rather dismal season.

In Ela-Vernon the Bisons will meet the best team in the loop at this point in the schedule. Ela has the best line in the league. A green backfield has cut their scoring total, but a Prouty to Chaffin and Stockinger passing combination has clicked consistently and two touchdowns are enough to win for Ela from anyone in the conference. Bensenville will be underdog and a win would be a major upset. This will be a single game starting at 8:00 Saturday night.

ANTIOCH HAS an open week in the schedule and will travel to Barrington. The Bronchos currently rank second in the North Suburban and Antioch's winless eleven will probably be no match for the team which took 28 straight in the Northwest before seeking tougher competition in a faster league. Grant closes the season at home with Wauconda the opponent. The Wauconda team is down to earth now after Ela-Vernon gave them a lesson in football fundamentals last Saturday and Coach Haley's team will probably bounce back with a vengeance against Grant. The loser is definitely eliminated from the league race while the winner has a 50-50 chance of staying on top.

Grant had 2,500 people out to see them upset Palatine, 7-6. Nearly as many will be on hand to watch a Grant team, which lost its first game and was given no chance this season, fight it out to keep a winning streak alive and a possible crack at the top spot in the conference.

NEXT WEEK the showdown will reach climatic proportions when Palatine plays at Wauconda and Ela-Vernon risks their title hopes at Grayslake in the finish of the most hotly contested football schedule in the 27 years of the Northwest Conference's existence.

Change Dates For Cross Country Meets

Three changes have been made in playing dates for the Arlington cross country team. The Maine meet, originally slated for Saturday, November 1, has been moved to Tuesday, October 28. Confliict with the state meet at Champaign, where some Maine runners will probably compete, necessitated the move.

The meet at Hinsdale scheduled for Saturday has been moved back to Friday, October 31.

The final match against Downers Grove November 8 has been moved up to Tuesday, November 4, to be run in conjunction with the West Suburban conference meet at Glenbard.

MAC SAYS

BY G. A. McELROY

WE'RE GOING TO WIN the championship. That is what we heard the Ela-Vernon football team shout as they ran off the field following their first Northwest conference game with Grant back in mid-September. We thought it was just wishful thinking on their part with five more league games to play. Today we realize it was the best prediction of the season. Saturday Ela projected themselves to the front in the waning conference race as they jolted Wauconda 6-0 in a very convincing exhibition to tie for the lead.

Ela is right now the best team in the league. They blocked and tackled Saturday better than any team has to date in the 1952 Northwest season.

With winless Bensenville and second division Grayslake standing between them and at least a share of the championship, we cannot see how Coach Bill Lehmann's Bears can miss. Four teams have better material but no better spirit or as good grounding in football fundamentals.

PALATINE WAS ON TOP in the conference, the only undefeated team, from 4:30 Saturday until 10:00 that evening. Then the Pirates handed away a chance to win the title by fumbling and a defensive lapse which permitted a Grant back to run unmolested for a touchdown.

The Pirates still have a chance to get at least a tie for the top spot, but they will have to do it by playing better ball than their last two outings.

Grayslake and Wauconda are formidable opponents standing in the way of Palatine's first championship. If Palatine gets by greatly improved Grayslake at home Saturday and Wauconda can beat Grant, this pair of pre-game favorites for the championship, with the best material in the league, will be playing each other to see who can share honors with dark horse Ela-Vernon. It is the closest and most interesting grid season on record in the league.

Grant has it figured that they can finish undisputed champ if they can beat Wauconda Saturday. Then Grayslake would have to drop Ela and Wauconda edge out Palatine to put the Bulldogs on top for they close the season Saturday and have a tie with Antioch in addition to their present 3-1 record.

PALATINE TRIED the experiment of playing home grid games Friday and Saturday night and Saturday afternoon. The Friday night game with Warren brought $429, the Saturday night contest with Antioch $344, and the homecoming game with Libertyville on a Saturday afternoon brought in $308. Next year Palatine will again play its homecoming game on a Saturday afternoon and play all others on Friday night.

* * *

AT THE NORTHWEST CONFERENCE principals' meeting at Bensenville last Thursday Dr. Norman Watson, superintendent of the Northfield high school, under construction, stated the school will be in operation next fall and asked to be included in the 1953 football schedule.

He feels they will get their new school plant completed in less than a year and be open for business next September.

If this happens, it will certainly be a record in school construction for this area since World War II.

THE SCHOOLS OF THE Northwest conference, their students and fans, join with us in expressing sympathy to Grant high of Fox Lake and their football team in their loss of student and team mate, Charles Stanton Jr., who was killed in an automobile accident after the homecoming pep rally Friday night of last week.

In the same accident, Leo Gerretson suffered a broken collar bone and Edward Holm, a broken ankle. All were juniors and players who had been seeing action in all Grant's games, though not as starters.

Palatine lost one of its best players for the final two games of the season. Chuck James, center and linebacker had been Palatine's best bet for all-conference Saturday night James played an outstanding game, but suffered a broken wrist in the last quarter and will be sidelined as his mates battle for the championship.

NOTES TAKEN from that West Suburban coaches and athletic directors' confab included the observation that the loop doesn't need as many rule changes as it does stricter observance of the present regulations already written into the minutes . . . Fred Beile, ex-Maineite, was one of three DeKalb harriers tying for first place in the 5,000 meter run at Milwaukee last week . . .

Heights Harriers Cop First League Win Against York

The end of one rainbow was reached Friday afternoon at Arlington Heights when the local harriers emerged victorious for their first West Suburban conference win. They outran York, 20-38.

Coach Russ Attis immediately set sights on a "winning season" for his boys, with the present record standing at 3-3. Three single matches remain with Hinsdale, Maine and Downers. Two victories would mean a 5-4 slate for the year.

ONCE AGAIN it was Jerry Dallstream leading the Heights pack of five boys who finished second through sixth against the Elmhurst school Friday. He ran the course in 9:51, four seconds behind visiting Gates.

John Sheppard finished third for Arlington, Don Drever fourth, Bob Rankin fifth and Marshall Dahlstrom sixth. In seventh spot was Price of York with Jim Whitelaw eighth for Heights. The other three places in the money for York were Major, Strong and Curtis, ninth, tenth and eleventh.

Other finishers for Arlington included Ozzie Aldrich 13th, Ray Hornbostel 15th, Jim Fontaine 16th, Bob LeMay 19th, Don Rash 20th and Norm Sargent 22nd.

The game was over when Dick Winterbauer caught this pass from Johnny Eakins Friday night as Arlington tied York, 7-7. Six seconds remained in the contest when the ball was put in play, the above 14-yard pass resulting. Winterbauer fell over the goal line, then scored the extra point through the line for the all-important point. —Gassen photo

Haberkamp Flowers Again Riding In First Place, Aim For Berth In Paddock Bowling Meet

Haberkamp Flowers bowling fivesome, who finished 17th of 24 teams entered last year in Paddock Publications Inter-League handicap bowling tournament, are rolling along this year in first place in the Mt. Prospect Businessmen's league. If they can keep the pace through December 13 they will again be eligible for the newspaper-sponsored meet at Arlington Heights Bowling Lanes January 4.

That is the deadline of the men's half of the keglers' tournament this year. For the women, who'll compete for honors at Bowlwood Recreation, Wood Dale, January 11, the deadline is December 20.

ELSEWHERE in Mt. Prospect last year's sponsors in the Paddock tourney aren't faring too well. Prospect Heights Pharmacy, representing St. James Holy Name loop, which last year finished 22nd in the tournament, is at present in second place, two games behind Ericksons.

Kruse's Tavern, last year's tournament representative from the Mt. Prospect Men's club league, is tied with three other teams for second, two games behind Kirchhoff Insurance. Others tied with Kruse's are Busse-Biermann and Busse Motors.

FROM FRIDAY MAJOR league sponsors Annen & Busse Realtors, who finished tenth in the big meet last year, are not in this year, but four members of the aggregation are continuing to bowl under the banner of El Rando and are in first place by two-and-a-half games over Hamm's Beer.

Trophies for this year's tournament were ordered last week, and are expected to be on display to bowlers in about ten days, along with posters and entry blanks giving details of the double event.

BRIEFLY, the facts are these. First place teams of all men's leagues at the six bowling establishments within the immediate area served by Paddock Publications as of December 13 are eligible to compete for six trophies and cash prizes at Arlington Heights Bowling Lanes January 4, 1953. First place teams of all women's leagues at the same establishments as of December 20 will be eligible to compete for trophies and prizes at Bowlwood Recreation, Wood Dale, January 11, 1953.

Entry fees for both divisions are $15 per team, payable with entry from league secretaries. In event of ties in any league, it will be up to loop officials to decide league entrants. In some cases, sponsors are being asked to "kick in," in a couple of loops the league treasury pays the fare, while in most individual competitors dig down for the money.

Eakins-Winterbauer Toss Salvages 7-7 Tie With York For Arlington

There was a time, a couple of years back, when Arlington football fans wondered what the local grid staff would do with two quarterbacks — Johnny Eakins and Dick Winterbauer. Eakins, a senior, had the job cinched until Winterbauer, a junior, came on the scene last year.

It seems that Winterbauer was the passer, Eakins the runner.

BUT THE REVERSE paid off for Arlington Heights high school Cardinals Friday night as a pass from left halfback Eakins to quarterback Winterbauer as the game ended was good for an 8 yard gain and a touchdown. Winterbauer ran the extra point and the game was finished, 7-all, against York.

It had been four down, five to go, three minutes remaining, when Eakins, in punt formation, ran with the ball instead, from his own 40 to the York 30. From there he ran to the eight yard line from where the payoff pass was thrown.

EAKINS played a whale of a game for the Cardinal and White, the best of his career. In a game where the line wasn't holding as it did in the past, both Johnny and Winterbauer looked good to local fans.

Eakins connected on three out of three pass attempts, while Winterbauer hit four for nine. The forward wall wasn't up to par Friday night making those marks all the more creditable. Both Straus and Rezek were in the game, but not up to par, due to injuries, while Verret was hurt on the first play of the game and not used thereafter.

YORK SCORED as the result of a 60 yard drive, including a 15 yard penalty against Heights for roughing the kicker after the visitors had attempted to kick on "fourth and six." An off tackle thrust paid off for the Elmhurst school in the opening period.

York held the edge in many departments. They were favored in first downs, 12-11, in rushing, 207 yards to 154, and in fumbles, 3-2.

Eakins gained 68 yards on the ground, Roger Thomas 52, Tom Theis 15, Winterbauer 12, and Roberts 7.

CARDINAL SOPHS had an easy time of it in the preliminary, 26-0. They scored the first time they had the ball, with Richie Kyska going around end for six yards. Wayne Brumm running the extra point.

At the start of the second half Kyska dashed 30 yards, setting up the touchdown which Jim Laughlin made from the three yard line off tackle.

Brumm went right down the middle for 60 yards in the third quarter, running the count to 20-0 going into the final segment when Dennis Maher went off tackle three yards, after a drive from midfield.

Only time York threatened, they ran to the Heights four yard line on a double reverse. Four plays later they had been pushed back to the eight.

The locals were inside the York five two other times in the first half, but fumbles queered both deals.

Touchdowns: York—Stanton; Arlington—Winterbauer.

Conversions: York—Cabo; Arlington—Winterbauer.

Cardinals Never Had It So Good

It was National Undefeated Week at Arlington Hts. high school last week ending Saturday, October 18, the first in the annals of West Suburban conference competition.

Tuesday the cross country team beat Palatine, 19-41.

Thursday the frosh gridders whipped Niles, 14-7.

Friday the cross country team took York, 20-38, after which the frosh-sophs beat the Elmhurst school, 26-0, while the varsity gained a 7-7 tie.

Card Frosh-Sophs Keeping Pace For Second Spot

by BOB PADDOCK

Arlington Heights footballers journey to Hinsdale Saturday for the second attempt on the part of the locals to reach conference victory number two. The Cardinals defeated Riverside two weeks ago for the number one win in two years of play.

Whether certain key defensive stalwarts have recovered enough to be back in form will tell the story, insofar as local fans are concerned. If Rezek, Straus and Verret can be operating at 100%, the offense may be able to bring home the victory. Otherwise, Hinsdale will be favored to win Saturday.

THE CARDINALS backed into a tie for fifth place by virtue of their tie and Downers Grove's whitewash to Maine. The frosh-sophs are in a much better position, just one game behind LaGrange.

On comparative scores the local varsity could be an easy victim. LaGrange upset the Ormsbee-men, 32-0, while Hinsdale succumbed just this past week, 13-7. Hinsdale beat Glenbard, 26-20, while the Bards spanked Arlington, 13-7.

The frosh-sophs find about the same situation with LaGrange whipping Arlington, 6-0, and besting Hinsdale, 13-0. Glenbard lost to Arlington, 13-12, and Hinsdale, 33-12.

OTHER GAMES in the West Suburban conference find a battle for second place between Glenbard and Maine on the docket, pitting the league's two leading scorers, Bruce Gallup of Maine and Tom Peters of Glenbard, against each other. Both boys have crossed the goal line six times this year.

Downers Grove should be another victim for LaGrange while York and Riverside will be battling to get out of the basement in both divisions.

Grant Rallies To Edge Palatine, 7-6

by GERRY McELROY

The Grant Bulldogs dealt the Palatine Pirates their first conference loss of the year Saturday night, as they thrilled their huge homecoming crowd by coming back late in the fourth quarter to edge the Pirates, 7 to 6.

The Pirates scored first in the third quarter on a 12 yard end run by Schrage after a 26 yard pass to Abrahamson had brought the ball down to the 12 yard line. Grant scored their touchdown late in the fourth quarter as Troemel cut around the Pirates right end for nine yards and the touchdown.

AFTER A scoreless first half the Pirates recovered a Grant fumble on their own 45 and started to push towards the Grant goal line. A 20 yard run by Schrage to the Grant 34 and an 11 yard jaunt to the 22, by Norman Stenzel, looked like the scoring punch but the Pirates were stopped as a five yard loss and an incomplete pass stopped the drive on the Bulldog five yard line. Soon after Grant was forced to punt to their own 30 but a fifteen yard penalty on Palatine set the ball back on the 45.

A pass to Abrahamson who who turned and lateraled to Skip Hauseman was good for 26 yards to the Grant 19 where Stenzel gained nine yards to the Grant 10. Schrage then skirted the end for the touchdown. A five yard penalty for too much time in the huddle on the extra point attempt put the ball back on the seven and the kick was low.

LATE IN the fourth quarter the Grant punter got off a 66 yard punt to the Palatine goal line where the ball was brought out to the 20 yard line. On the first down the Pirates fumbled and Grant recovered at the line of scrimmage. A four yard gain through the line and a complete pass for seven yards moved the ball to the Pirates nine yard line where Jack Troemel ran around the Palatine right end for the touchdown.

The winning margin was once again decided by Tony Leonard's place kicking ability as he put through his eleventh straight extra point to enable his team to win, 7 to 6. The loss put Palatine in a three way tie with Ela-Vernon and Wauconda. All have three wins and one loss, while Grant is in second with three wins, one loss and a tie.

The Pirates next game will be with Grayslake, Saturday night at Community park in Palatine.

Glenbard Beats Riverside, 33-12; Ponies Lose, 20-13

by EDWIN BERNDT

Before a homecoming crowd of well over 2,500 people, Glenbard came through with at least one touchdown in each quarter to beat Riverside, 33-12.

Sparked by the line play of Floyd Zarndt, Bill Patch, Bill Jordan, Don Duffey and Tom Peters, the Bards consistently outcharged the Riverside line to completely dominate play.

Peters and Art Biddle were the offensive stalwarts as each tallied twice.

AFTER RECOVERING a Riverside fumble on the R. B. 7 yd. line, Slater passed to Peters for the first score. Jordan converted.

Early in the second quarter Glenbard scored on another Slater to Peters pass, this time for 43 yards. Jordan again converted.

Riverside scored on a pass from George Vojta to Wayne Griffin for an overall gain of 27 yards. Brauns placement was wide.

At the half the score was 14-6, favor of Glenbard.

ANOTHER SLATER to Peters pass, this one for 25 yards, put the ball on the 3 yard line. Biddle scored after three line plunges. The extra point try was spoiled by a bad pass from center.

Fred Kracht of Riverside scored on the longest run of the day as he went off tackle for 50 yards. Braun's placement was again wide.

Glenbard put the game on ice in the fourth quarter as they tallied 13 points. Art Biddle scored on a 20 yard run and Al Bassett scored on a 6 yard plunge. Jordan made one of the two extra point attempts. The final score was 33-12.

THE BARD ponies lost a close decision as their lack of defense allowed Riverside to tally their first three touchdowns of the season. Rhind scored all three Riv touchdowns while Arnold converted twice.

Edwards and Gilbert tallied once each for Glenbard, while Sylvester scored an extra point

Next week the Bards play at Maine in the game for second place in the West Suburban conference.

Ela-Vernon Upsets Wauconda To Rate Best Chance For Title

by G. A. McELROY

Ela-Vernon had their most successful homecoming on record. They whipped Wauconda 6-0 with the best football the Bears have shown this year and the best lineplay the league has witnessed. In addition they placed themselves in the favored position to cop a share of all of the conference championship since Palatine fell before Grant the same day.

Wauconda's vaunted passing attack failed to click and only George Sutko's end runs could be depended upon for yardage and he was thrown for sizeable losses on four occasions by Ela's hard charging line. Wauconda completed 1 pass in 15 tries of which four were intercepted. Ela completed four out of 11. Ela had a yardage total from scrimmage of 188 to Wauconda's 104.

THE LONE score of the game came late in the second period. After Glen Chaffin got away a 50 yard Ela punt setting the Bulldogs back to their own 42 Ela recovered the ball on the next play on a fumble on the 44 yard line. Don Prouty hit the line twice and made it first down on the 30 yard stripe. Murphy plunged for four yards and MacShroyer pushed ahead eight on a quarterback sneak for first down on the 18. At this point Don Prouty found Bob Stockinger in the clear and fired a pass for the touchdown.

Ela had the best of the argument in the second half, on one occasion losing the ball on downs on the Wauconda eight yard line. Wauconda never did get inside the Ela-Vernon 40 yard line at any time in the game. This is the best evidence of the way Ela's line outplayed the Wauconda boys. Jerry Schuetz, Herb Pollock, Cliff Reed and Bob Price were outstanding in the line for Ela along with Chaffin and Stockinger, ends.

With Bensenville and Grayslake between them and a championship, Ela has the best chance of any team of getting at least a share of the title.

PAM Lutheran Dart Ball Loop To Open Play

Next Friday evening, October 24, the PAM Lutheran dart ball league starts its second dart ball season.

A meeting was recently held and a board of directors were elected, including:

Chairman, Carl Schwerman.
Vice Chairman, August Lange.
Treasurer, Louis Pankonin.
Publicity, Wallace Phillips.
Secretary, Richard Niemeyer.
Statistician, Melvin Bach.

THE 1952-53 schedule calls for 54 games to be played on Friday evenings through March 27 and will be followed by a dart ball dinner and tournament.

The traveling trophy will be retained by the first team to win the league championship three times. St. Paul's, Mt. Prospect, won the cup for the 1951-52 season.

The following teams will comprise the league this year:

St. Paul, Mt. Prospect.
Faith, Arlington Heights.
St. Peters, Arlington Heights.
Immanuel, Palatine.

Arlington Frosh Whip Niles, 14-7

Arlington's freshman football squad gained a 2-2 margin for the year against Niles Thursday when they took the measure of the host team, 14-7. It was a case of Niles running at will the first quarter but scoring only once, and the Heights defense holding the second half.

Niles scored in the first quarter after a 70 yard dash was stopped by Roger Boeger on the six yard line when the home boys had had fourth down on their own 20.

JACK EBERT, looking good on both offense and defense, tallied the first TD for Arlington in the second period on a 15 yard plunge through the left side, with Boeger gaining the point after on a quarterback sneak.

Richard Stocking accounted for the other score for Coach Curtis Larsen's charges on a reverse to the left for ten yards, Boeger carrying the point after.

Only other Niles threat came in the fourth period but a fumble on the Arlington 15 ended the drive.

BOB BUSSE performed creditably at end on defense, using his 5' 1" height to sucessfully stop an opposing six-footer.

Bob MacDonald was slightly hurt by a blow on the head during the game, but had recovered completely in time for the ride home.

Next game for the locals is Monday, October 27, at Hinsdale.

Grayslake Ties Antioch At Home, 6-6

Grayslake and Antioch, two teams with little at stake in Northwest conference football at this stage, played to a 6-6 deadlock Saturday night on the former's home field. The tie failed to alter the schools' positions in league standings. Grayslake remains in fifth place and Antioch in sixth.

Fans of the hosting eleven found something to cheer about on the game's very first play from scrimmage. Ward exploded through the entire Antioch team to romp 81 yards for Grayslake's only touchdown. The attempted conversion for the extra point was unsuccessful and the score was 6 to 0.

This margin stood until the final quarter when Antioch recovered a fumble on the Grayslake 28 yard line. The visitors proceeded to score with a three yard plunge by Bock climaxing the drive. Antioch's try for the extra point also failed and the final 6 to 6 count was thus attained.

LaGrange Rallies To Beat Hinsdale

LaGrange overcame a 7 to 0 third quarter deficit, scoring twice in the final period to conquer Hinsdale's defending champions, 13 to 7, in LaGrange Saturday. Leon McRae accounted for both LaGrange touchdowns, romping 60 yards for his first and plunging 1 yard for his second.

Track Trophy Arrives

The frosh-soph 880-yard relay trophy won by Malcolmson, Ellis, Frisk and Werner came home to roost Thursday night and was resting on the desk of athletic director Wally Grace this week. It was to be presented to the boys this week in a special assembly.

Tips on Traffic Safety

By
EDWARD J. BARRETT
Secretary of State

Railroad crossings along highways present enough dangers in the normal course of driving without increasing your chances for a serious accident by attempting to pass another car while crossing railroad tracks. Illinois law specifically prohibits passing at such points. Section 58b, 2, Uniform Act Regulating Traffic.)

At many crossings, it is impossible to get a clear view of the tracks for a long enough distance to be sure there is no train approaching. Hills obstruct vision, and so do buildings, groves of trees and other objects.

At times like that, all your attention as a driver is needed to make sure the way is clear. If you are trying to pass another car at the same time, your attention is divided and you may easily fail to see the very danger you want to avoid most. The best policy, as well as the law, is to wait until you have passed the danger point before overtaking the other fellow.

A copy of the booklet, "Rules of the Road," containing many traffic safety suggestions, will be sent to you free upon request. Write to EDWARD J. BARRETT, Secretary of State, Springfield, Illinois.

DeKalb At Normal Saturday Afternoon

One of the oldest and most colorful football rivalries among midwestern small colleges will be resumed Saturday when Northern Illinois State will help Illinois State Normal university stage its homecoming celebration.

"Old Normal" and Northern have been locking horns on the gridiron since 1902, in a series that has been so close that only five points separate them now, Normal having the edge 240-235.

The Redbirds have won 11 games to nine for Northern's Huskies, and nine have been ties, indicating the caliber of the traditional rivalry.

The widest margin of victory was established last season, when the Huskies had Normal scheduled at the DeKalb homecoming and won 39-13, to avenge the 1948 loss to Normal which spoiled the Huskies' golden anniversary homecoming.

Bruce Gallup's 3 TD's Lead Maine To Victory

Maine's 28 to 0 victory at Downers Grove Saturday was sparked by Bruce Gallup's three touchdowns. Gallup scored twice on 1 yard thrust and the third time on a 10 yard sprint.

In England

Writing an interesting letter from England this week is Caryl Sloan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Mundy, Arlington Heights.

"The children have gone to bed, Harlan's in Germany, and I'm sitting alone in our 300 year old, 18 room house, which is no more than a good golf shot from the North sea. I'm surrounded by 200 year old furniture and keeping warm by a two day old kerosene stove. This may be unfair to England, but after having traveled a bit, it is the bleakest, grayest, most dismal place I've ever seen.

"The base where Harlan is stationed is 30 miles away with the people there living in little towns around it. We're in the heart of town, but I still feel as if we're away from everyone 'cause the people seem as foreign as the Germans, even though they speak the same language.

"Their food is all I've ever heard claimed for it; they can take a choice fillet and make it taste like a six month old dish rag. Driving is like riding a roller coaster. At the cross roads you can't see for the hedge-rows, but if you honk and pray the odds are that you'll pass by safely. Learning to drive on the left, remembering the little signal flip-flaps, shifting gears, keeping the motor running even at stop streets, all those make me a new road hazard in England.

"I haven't seen a TV, heard a "wireless," or read a decent readable newspaper in three weeks, so I feel as out of touch as if we were in Antarctica."

Her address is Caryl Sloan, c/o Maj. Thos. H. Sloan, APO 22, c/o PM, New York, N. Y.

Illinois TAX FACTS

By George Mahin, Executive Secretary Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois

One of the biggest reasons why state government spending in Illinois has increased so much in the last five years has been the drastic increase in state aid for schools.

State school aid was almost 35 million dollars greater in the last fiscal year ending June 30, 1952, than it was five years ago in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1948. Total state spending from the general fund (covering most state activities other than highways) increased almost 99 million dollars in the same period. Increased school aid accounted for more than a third of the total increase.

Like the housewife who moved the ends every time her husband thought he was going to make ends meet, so the demands for increased state school aid move constantly higher. It has already been reported that the schools will be seeking a further increase of from 17½ to 21½ million dollars a year in additional state aid from the next general assembly in 1953, plus a new program of state help for local school construction.

More than half of the state aid money is earmarked for special purposes.

The salaries of county superintendents and assistant county superintendents, plus supervisory expenses, are paid by the state. The taxpayers' share of the cost of the downstate teachers' pension fund is paid by the state, amounting to $4,717,993 in fiscal 1951. While the state does not contribute directly to the cost of the Chicago teachers' pension fund, it does indirectly since the share of the state distributive funds paid to Chicago schools is adjusted to make up for this.

The state's contribution to the cost of pupil transportation has increased from $1,400,000 in fiscal 1948 to $3,488,320 in fiscal 1951. The school lunch program cost the state $2,227,929 for fiscal 1951, plus $2,832,319 in federal funds. The state's share of the cost of vocational education increased from $1,008,705 for fiscal 1948 to $1,644,036 in fiscal 1951. The federal share in fiscal '48 was $936,010, was $1,140,357 for fiscal '51.

The state also contributes to the excess cost of educating handicapped children. The total cost to the state for this program, covering blind, deaf, physically handicapped, mentally handicapped, speech defective, and maladjusted children, increased from $3,300,360 in fiscal 1948 to $4,700,000 in fiscal 1951.

The state is now contributing to the cost of the Chicago teachers' college. An attempt to obtain state aid for junior colleges is probable at the 1953 General assembly.

State equalization aid and flat grants, which can be used by local school boards for teacher salaries and other general educational purposes, increased from $20,633,426 in fiscal 1948, to $46,353,434 in fiscal 1951.

✦ Just Around The Corner ✦

from PATTY McARDLE

Dear Peg:

Have you or your children seen the television program, "Ding-Dong School," at 9:30 each morning? After watching several times, I have come to the conclusion that it is one of the most entertaining and educational half hours you can find in the TV schedule. Having heard about it just recently, from a friend of mine, Megan and I have watched Miss Frances only a few times, but already Megan is more interested in this than any of the other children's programs appearing during the day.

The soft-voiced Miss Frances appears on the screen sitting on a hassock, and on either side of her are shelves filled with toys, puzzles and books —all familiar objects to the children who watch daily.

EACH MORNING she teaches her little viewers something new. The first time we tuned in, she discussed the use of clay and showed us how many different animals could be molded. I was delighted to hear (as all viewing mothers must have been) her suggestion that all the children should be sure to have a large piece of oil cloth on which to do their modeling, so as not to get any clay on the carpet or floor, and that all must wear an apron when doing this work. This activity was a little advanced for Megan, consequently she was not as interested in the clay itself as she was in Miss Frances' finished product—a nicely shaped bell that Megan recognized as an object which we see at the farm.

The following day, Miss Frances called our attention to a large, old-fashioned clock hanging on the studio wall. After pointing out the pendulum, the hands and the face, and listening to it tick-tock, she played a record, "In a Clock Store" —one of the nicest children's recordings I have heard. In the record we could hear a chiming clock, an alarm clock and a cuckoo clock, all working in time to the ticking tempo of the music. Because of the familiarity of the sounds (she has heard all these kinds of clocks) Megan was fascinated by the record and called my attention to each one.

THE NEXT TIME we watched, Miss Frances had a real telephone placed on a table next to her. She carefully explained the dial, the place into which you speak and the part through which you listen. She then let the telephone ring, picked it up and held an imaginary conversation with a little child. In her clear, quiet voice she told us that the telephone was not to be played with, but rather, it was to be used when you had something important to say to someone, and only then, after you had asked permission of your parents to use it.

Following the primary subject of the day, the camera would focus on the toy shelves and Miss Frances would again point out the friendly toy-shelf-objects (children love repetition) and then tell her toddler-audience what the subject for the next day was to be.

BEFORE THE PROGRAM closes, Miss Frances tells the children to call their mothers to the TV set. She then explains to the mothers what she has done during the half hour and how it may help the children to learn about everyday things. She also tells the mothers what materials to have ready for the following morning. During the next few days we are to save all our paper grocery sacks, as next week the children are going to make masks for Hallowe'en.

Although the activities are somewhat advanced for our almost-three-little-Megan, she is charmed by the slow, soft, intimate manner in which Miss Frances directs questions to her viewers and pretends to receive answers.

This is such an excellent program that Megan and I shall be attending "Ding-Dong School" whenever it's possible and I hope you'll watch it soon too—I'll bet you enjoy it as much as your kiddies, Peg!

Accidents Caused By Teen Age Drivers Discussed At Meeting

Auto accidents caused by 'teen age drivers the past six months accounted for over 12% of the fatal accidents and nearly 10% of all accidents in suburban Cook county. President Erickson of the county board told officials of 20 towns who attended a dinner meeting of Cook County Traffic Safety commission Wednesday evening.

"In 17 accidents scored against youngsters, people were killed," said the board president. "In eight accidents, none of them fatal, cars were driven by children under 15."

The meeting was held at Sportsman's golf and country club. Guests included the mayors of the various municipalities in the northern part of Cook county and representatives of the police departments as well as members of local safety commissions. H. R. Hamm gave the address of the evening. A movie film of a "day in Court" was also shown.

Erickson in his welcoming address said in part:

"While the accident rate for the rest of Illinois and for the county as a whole has risen in the post war years, suburban Cook county has shown the capacity to lower its annual toll of lives.

"In 1946 the year the commission began to function, the total of traffic fatalities in our area was 192. The next year, the total was one less. The third year—1948, the total was again 192. While that was not a reduction, it was nevertheless holding the line in the face of a rapidly growing traffic volume.

"Our banner year was 1949, when the death total dropped to 155. There was a string of 13 consecutive months, ending with October, 1949, when each month's total of deaths was lower than for the same month in the year before.

"Last year was also outstanding. The total fatalities was 187, as against 209 for the preceding year—a saving of 22 lives.

"I don't believe this was all luck. The efforts in which all of you had part counted somewhere along the line. I believe that lives can be saved year after year if the motoring public can be induced to cooperate whole-heartedly with the authorities.

"Right now we have a special problem in the youthful driver. It is one that demands quick solution, but it is also one that offers hope for long range good results. By making safe drivers of the young, we can not only prevent accidents now, but we can bring up a generation of safe adult drivers.

"The menace of the 'teen age driver has been noted by all engaged in traffic safety, including the insurance companies.

"It is difficult for a boy of 16 to appreciate that an automobile traveling 50 miles an hour is a deadly missile. His emotions are high and his reactions are springy. At that age he hasn't developed due consideration for the possible consequences of his actions. The combination of exhubent youth and a fast car is inherently hazardous.

"I have no way of knowing the number of boys and girls under 19 who own or have the use of a car, but it surely must be very small in comparison with the number of drivers over 19. Yet, in suburban Cook county the first six months of this year—out of a total of 14,164 traffic accidents, drivers under 19 years were involved in 1,230."

The Extinction Of a Species

Bensenville, Ill.

THE SANDHILL CRANE

There are only two species of crane in North America; the whooping crane and the sandhill crane. The whooping crane is nearly extinct; most naturalists believe that it soon will be entirely non-existant.

That leaves only the sandhill crane as a representative of this impressive family; but man is not satisfied to merely destroy the whooping crane; man must also crush the life from the sandhill.

The four foot, slate-gray crane formerly abounded from Alaska to Florida. It was a resident of Louisiana and Florida and formerly bred from the southern Canadian provinces south to California, Colorado, Nebraska, Illinois, and Ohio. The bird is now rare in the southern half of this breeding ground. It used to migrate as far east as New England; it is now rare east of the Mississippi River except in Florida.

George Gladden provides an excellent description of the interesting habits of the sandhill crane in "Birds of America." "Unlike the herons, this Crane spends much of it time, and gets the food which it seems to relish most, on dry land. Hence it is often found on the plains and prairies, sometimes in small flocks but often in pairs or singly. Its diet includes a large percentage of roots, bulbs, grains, and the like; and it is especially fond of corn which it takes from the shock. Insects, frogs, lizards, snakes and mice are also included in its bill of fare, but not in sufficient numbers to make its flesh "strong" as it that of the herons and other wading birds. In fact, this crane's flesh is excellent for the table, and it has been persistently hunted for food.

On the fenceless prairies and the treeless marshes, where its keen eyes can detect afar off the approach of an enemy, the demeanor and habits of this fine brave bird challenges the admiration of the man who appreciates alertness, courage, and strength in wildlife. Not for an instant is the great bird off his guard. Moving in deliberate and dignified stride he pauses occasionally and lowers his head to thrust his bill into the soft earth; or to seize a dozing frog or an unwatchful insect; but in a few seconds up again comes his head, and his eyes search the surrounding country. If the approach of his chief enemy, man, is discovered, the crane surveys the intruder for a few minutes and then with a few long running strides takes to his wings at the same time sounding his wild and defiant cry.

The cry of the sandhill crane is a veritable voice of nature, untamed and unterrified. Its uncanny quality is like that of the loon, but it is more pronounced because of the much greater volume of the Crane's voice. Its resonance is remarkable and its carrying power is increased by a distinct tremalo effect. Often for several minutes after the bird has vanished, the unearthly sound drifts back to the listener, like a taunting trumpet from the underworld."

If the sandhill crane is not saved; if man does not stop the cruel and indiscriminating destruction of his fellow species, this defiant cry will continue to drift on through the ages long after the Crane is wiped from the face of the earth. It will drift on to taunt the soul and to shame the conscience of a people who knew no better than to kill.

And drifting with it will be the bell-like wooing notes of the passenger pigeon, the chatter of the Carolina paroquet, the booming of the heath hen, and the clear two toned cornet like note of the whooping crane.

This need not happen; but it will take public cooperation to avoid it.

TALES of the STREET

Stratton

With all the campaign fireworks centering largely around the candidates for president, the lesser offices are being shoved into the background by the big guns of the heads of the tickets.

In Illinois this year there is no candidate for U. S. Senator to be elected and the second important office in the campaign in this state is the governorship.

For that office Republican William G. Stratton seems at this stage of the campaign to have a clear cut lead. "Young Bill" Stratton is by no means a stranger to the voters of Illinois. He is ending his second term as state treasurer which office he has filled capably and well, giving the people of the state a clean cut business administration free from scandals and loaded payrolls.

Bill Stratton also served Illinois for two terms as congressman at large and in Washington as well as Springfield his record was such that it won the approval of the "homefolks."

Bill Stratton is a "homefolks" candidate, his city to city, town to town, hamlet to hamlet campaigns throughout Illinois have made him acquainted with countless thousands of voters who hail him as their own. He is known in every section of the state as a friendly, folksy campaigner.

He won the Republican nomination from a field of capable hard working candidates — all good men — and he is really a "peoples choice" candidate as compared to his democratic opponent who was Governor Stevenson's hand picked candidate put on the ticket at the orders of the Governor with the pressure of patronage behind that order.

During his campaign "Young Bill" Stratton has followed his usual tactics of getting out and meeting the people, talking with them about national and state issues and telling them just how he feels about things and what he proposes to do if elected Governor.

Bill Stratton has the knowledge, the political experience and the know how to make Illinois a good Governor. He will give to Illinois an honest businesslike administration with an eye for a balanced budget and full value in service for every dollar spent by the various state departments.

A vote for Bill Stratton is a vote for a people's government in Illinois, a state government that sympathizes with the problems of local self government and a government which will at all times be answerable to the people of the state. For a real "home folksy" government at Springfield for the next four years, vote for Bill Stratton for Governor.

Report to Walter

A couple of weeks ago, Walter Helms made a few remarks about the condition of Wood street. We are glad to report to Walter that at the last meeting of the village board, Wood street was added to the first year's program of street improvement to be paid for out of the gas tax funds allotted to the village.

It is hoped to be able to let the contract on Wood street which is to be given A-1 priority this fall so that work can start as soon as spring opens up. When the board action was taken, the Mayor turned to us with the remark "See what your story did?" So you see Walter, it pays to holler a little when a fellow has something to holler about. The old adage about "the wheel that squeaks the loudest is the wheel that gets the grease" still seems to work.

More Good News

The farmers around this area are not only happy about the bumper corn crop which they are now harvesting, they are also plenty pleased about the yield of their soy bean fields. Beans, according to the reports, have been yielding from thirty to forty bushels per acre, and the price has been very good.

It was a fine growing season for both corn and beans, and the dry fall weather permitted them to ripen better than for many years. A group was talking about the fine crops one day and one fellow remarked, "I hope the farmers won't feel that the Truman administration was responsible for all these fine crops this year and vote Democratic because of it, when it was really the weather that did the business, but that guy Truman will claim the credit for everything in sight whether his gang had anything to do with it or not."

Late Birds

Most of the bird population has taken off for the southland, but there are still a few hanging around. We have noticed a pretty weather beaten old robin hanging around the neighborhood who looks as if maybe he weren't quite up to a long trip south, and we thought maybe he was going to try to winter it out up here.

But the other morning we saw the old boy in company with a couple of husky, deep red breasted fellows of his own kind sitting in the bushes and scolding lustily because the water in the bird bath was frozen.

We put out some warm water for them and they were in a better humor in short order. After getting some water, they went lustily to work hunting insects under the leaves. Maybe the graying old timer isn't so feeble after all but is just waiting for his pals to get ready to take off for a warmer climate.

Several groups of blackbirds are also staying around, but as soon as the leaves get off the trees, they will be off as they do like those thick leaf shelters at night and as soon as that protection is gone away, they go. Soon all that will be left of the bird population will be the hardy winter birds that stay with us the year around, and they will be keeping an eye on the feeding grounds looking for a handout as soon as the weather gets rough and food becomes hard to find.

Leaf Showers

The weatherman has had a hard time making his forecasts of rain or showers materialize around here, but there have been so many beautiful leaf showers these frosty mornings. With the leaves practically all turned into many and varied colors, it only took a good frost to start them to falling in great profusion and it was a pretty sight on a morning like last Saturday to see the bright colored leaves fluttering down in veritable showers through the slanting rays of the morning sun.

We may be short on rainfall, but the falling leaves have made a much more spectacular display as far as color and beauty are concerned than the drab raindrops.

Mud

There must have been more rain south of here than we received ten days ago, for the papers made quite a point of a muddy track at Sportsmans Park along about October 15. It was the first mudy track in the Chicago area since the closing day of the Washington Park meeting on Labor Day.

The "mudders" hadn't much chance for six weeks, but they sure had their day when mud finally came — a favorite could not even get close.

Slighlty Different

It seems that there is a prize fighter named Billy Graham, so when "Chuck" Moore, an ardent fight fan saw a television or radio show billed as the "Billy Graham Show," he thought it would have something to do with the fight game. But when he turned in to the show, it was an Evangelist conducting a revival meeting.

It seems that there is an Evangelist named Billy Graham as well as a fighter and "Chuck" got hooked up with the wrong one.

Nuts

If President Harry Truman keeps on calling the Republican party anti-Catholic, anti-Jewish, anti-labor, anit-all foreigners and anti-everything else, he will convince the people that he and his administration are completely "nuts" and he'd go a long way toward helping Governor Stevenson not get elected as President.

This campaign has sure brought out more wild nutty statements, speeches, etc. than any other in the memory of man.

No wonder the people of other lands think that we are crazy over here in America. A lot of Americans are beginning to believe the same thing.

More Schools

With the completion of the new addition to the Palatine township high school, the high school needs of the community will be taken care of for a good many years to come, but not so the grade school.

Right now the grade school is planning a new school building to be erected on the south side, but at the rate at which school enrollment is increasing each year, the new building will be more than filled before it's completed.

The total enrollment of the grade school right now is 1470. 240 of which are kindergarten pupils. This 1470 pupils, if they had ample space would require 46 rooms, but there are in all the schools of District 15 only 34 rooms which makes a room deficiency at present of 12 rooms.

A survey looking into the future, and a very conservative survey at that, shows that for the 1955-56 school year there will be an enrollment of 2010 pupils requiring 64 rooms. With 34 rooms now available that makes a deficiency of 30 rooms by 1955-56.

With the use of the greatest possible assessed valuation, it hardly seems probable that that many rooms can be constructed in a new school and in addition to the Oak street school.

That is under prevailing costs of construction at least. It can be readily seen that the question of school space is a vexing problem to the board of District 15.

The figures given here do not take into consideration the new community of "Rolling Meadows" which property is in District 15 and which will require still more schools if the development comes anywhere near the dreams of the promoters.

The school problems of District 15 are vital problems and they are going to stay such for many years to come as more and more school buildings have to be provided. The board of education is now visiting new schools in this part of the state getting ideas and they will still get down to the detail of interviewing architects with the object of selecting one and getting down to the serious business of getting some plans for the new school which is proposed for the south side.

Cancer Society

I wish to correct an impression that might well be gained by residents of Arlington Heights and the whole of the area included in the Northwest Chapter of the American Cancer Society, Illinois Division, from the recent articles and advertisements appearing in your publication relative to the Arlington Heights Community Chest.

I note that there is included in the budget of the Community Chest an item designated "Cancer Fund, $1,200." As chairman of the Northwest Chapter of the American Cancer Society I feel it my duty to inform the many friends of the society that such budget designation does not mean the American Cancer Society and that none of the sum solicited or collected by the Community Chest under such designated fund will be accepted by the society.

The American Cancer Society does not presume to be the only organized charity engaging in the enormous fight now carried on against cancer, neither does it presume to say that such other charities shall not accept funds raised by federated means. It is simply the policy of the American Cancer Society not to join in or to accept funds raised in such manner.

In order to make clear the position of the society and the reasons why the society does not join in such federated fund raising plans as the Community Chest, I quote the resolution adopted by the Board of Directors of the American Cancer Society, Illinois Division, on October 3, 1952.

"WHEREAS there has developed recently a promotion of and agitation for the principle of federated, combined or united fund raising, which is being carried on in many parts of the country and also at a national level. The federated movement has attracted to it many business and professional leaders of the highest standing. These leaders have been principally attracted by the great convenience and simplicity of the federated idea, though doubtless many of them sincerely believe that the federated method will be more effective in raising money for worthy causes.

"AND WHEREAS the American Cancer Society, Illinois Division, Inc., wishes to make it explicitly clear that it is concerned only with the matter of federated fund raising as applied to cancer. Whether federation should be applied to other causes in the health and welfare field is a matter which does not concern the Society and on which it would not presume to express an opinion.

"AND WHEREAS the most important reason why the American Cancer Society, Illinois Division, Inc., cannot agree to accept money from a federated fund raising plan is that to do so would unquestionably increase the number of cancer deaths forthwith! Here is why: The Society's fund raising effort takes place during the month of April, which has been designated by Congress as Cancer Control Month. Volunteer workers for the Society use the occasion of calling on people to secure contributions, to instruct and educate the givers on what to do about cancer; how to detect its signs in its early stages. At this time, national and local publicity is at its peak and is a tremendous factor in informing countless thousands of people who would not otherwise be reached. The April cancer crusade not only raises needed funds but is a huge educational effort as well. The indoctrination of individuals to "see your doctor in time," to "watch for cancer's danger signals"—with detailed descriptions of what these signals are—is undoubtedly the most effective single weapon available to the American Cancer Society for saving lives now. Experience has shown that it is vitally important to carry out the fund raising and the educational efforts together. When a person gives his money to fight against cancer, he feels he has a stake in the whole program. He becomes more vigilant about his family and himself. It would be a needlessly dangerous experiment to try to separate the educational and fund raising efforts in the war against cancer. Of course, educational work is carried on by the Society at all times during the year, but the great emphasis is during the fund raising period—when the Society's more than one million volunteers take to the field.

"AND WHEREAS the Society believes that whoever controls your purse controls you, the directors of each local federated effort must of necessity control the allocation of money to each participating organization. While in many cases this control would be exercised at the highest level of efficiency and integrity, as the federated idea spreads from city to city, this would not always be the case; and in any event the American Cancer Society could not in conscience turn over control of its affairs to what would amount to a series of local bureaucracies

"AND WHEREAS the directors of the American Cancer Society, Illinois Division, Inc., would be derelict in their duty to the great majority of the citizens of Illinois if they condoned participation by local units as one of several causes in any "federated" or "united" appeal for funds.

"BE IT RESOLVED THAT in order to leave no doubt or misunderstanding, the policy of the American Cancer Society, Illinois Division, Inc., with reference to fund raising be herewith re-defined, as follows:

1. That the American Cancer Society, Illinois Division, Inc., continue to solicit contributions directly from prospective givers through its local units by means of a separate and independent statewide annual campaign for funds during April and simultaneously to utilize such campaign to bring to a climax its year-round effort to educate the public concerning cancer and the programs of the Society for the control of cancer.
2. The American Cancer Society, Illinois Division, Inc., will in no way, directly or indirectly, participate in or lend its name to any fund raising campaign of the federated type.
3. The American Cancer Society, Illinois Division, Inc., will not accept, if proffered, any money from campaigns in which money is raised in the name of cancer along with other causes. The Illinois Division will participate, however, in "concurrent" in-plant solicitation conducted by individual business or industrial firms.
4. The American Cancer Society, Illinois Division, Inc., will not accept money from any organization or fund, the acceptance of which will prejudice directly or indirectly the Society's regular April campaign for funds in any community."

I trust that the proponents of the Community Chest will not react unfavorably toward this position and will be sympathetic toward our objectives, which in its final analysis, as far as the residents of Arlington Heights are concerned, are basically designed to bring about the saving of lives among the people of our community.

Yours very truly,
NAT T. BURFEIND
Chairman, Northwest
Chapter, American Cancer Society, Illinois Div.

Achievement

It is a real pleasure to extend congratulations for receiving the first place award for community service rendered by you as awarded by the Illinois Press Association at their recent fall meeting for the year 1952.

I understand that 500 or more newspapers were entered in the contest. You are therefore to be commended for attaining this achivement.

I am sure the citizens of our community share with me in saying we are proud that the publisher of the Arlington Hts. Herald was awarded the first place honors.

Community Service

I read in the October 17th issue of the Herald about your receiving the first place award for Community Service at the recent meeting of the Illinois Press Association. Congratulations!

I am sure that you thoroughly deserve this recognition for the fine service you and your newspaper have rendered this community. I feel that we in the schools are particularly favored to have in our community an editor with the high standards and the fine spirit of cooperation which you have always exhibited.

Congratulations

Congratulations,
Mr. Paddock . . .

. . . on winning the first place Community Service Award of the Illinois Press Association! I was certainly happy to read the news last week.

To have been judged worthy of this award among 500 publications surely gives added stature to the coveted prize.

This is a well-deserved honor which reflects the good neighborliness with which you run all of your papers and your entire business. It takes a so-called "small" operation like yours to set the example for big business and government. If only they'd all follow the Golden Rule as you try to do in your work!

I take real pride and satisfaction in having Paddock Publications printing Aglite, our employee paper.

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

BY LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

One of the most difficult problems each of us has to face is the inability of other people to understand, recognize, sympathize and be considerate of us as we think they should be. This should lead us to suspect that we, also, are inclined to be unsympathetic and inconsiderate of others.

A friend of mine named Earl was always suspicious of other people. If he happened to hear someone telling what he knew about his work, or mentioning his children favorably, that person, to Earl, was bragging. If someone got a new suit, Earl assumed at once that that person was proud and vain.

IF YOU disagreed with Earl and tried to prove your point of view, you were stubborn, ignorant, and wouldn't listen to reason; if you won the argument, you were tyranical and overbearing; if you had any flaws at all in your personality, Earl delighted in pointing them out to others.

Earl was extreme about these things, but he taught me a great lesson. He taught me to hold back my judgment of other people; to try to understand and be considerate with them.

Because we are different from other people, we can not readily see their point of view, fully appreciate their sorrows, sickness or hardships. Because you and I are not perfect, we should not expect perfection from others, nor chide them for their peculiarities or shortcomings.

SOME PEOPLE are caustic, sharp of tongue, quick to criticise and love competition. Others are weak, easily injured, really afraid of everyone about them and the world they live in. Some people have great abilities in one or many lines, while others, because of fear, misfortune or improper training, are inefficient and unable to compete.

I honestly believe it is wrong to ridicule or criticise other people and especially if they are inferior, to make fun of them in order to prove to yourself and others how big, strong and important you think you are. Anyone who criticises or ridicules an inferior person before others, is in my opinion, cruel. It takes a lot of personal restraint sometimes to keep from putting a feather in our own cap at the expense of others less fortunate.

How to Remove Wall Paint Without Damaging Trim?

I have a job in an eight-room house. It has been painted a number of times with flat paint. Within the last three years, it has been painted with casein and later with another coat of flat. Now it has started to burst and peel off. How can I remove all of the paint to the plaster without damage to the trim?

The simplest way to remove all the paint from the walls of the house is with paint and varnish remover.

Whether or not you will damage the trim with the remover depends upon whether or not you splatter the remover on it or allow the remover to run down on it. If you are careful, you should be able to take the paint off the walls without damaging the trim. Masking the trim might help.

Carl F. Mees — Adviser and Editor

Early Entry For Live Stock Show

DuPage county's first entry for the coming international live stock exposition came from Robert Barker, Downers Grove, who will show corn and samples in the grain and hay show which is held in conjunction with the Exposition.

The exposition, world's topmost event of it's kind, gets underway in the International Amphitheatre November 29 for an eight-day run through December 6. It is expected to draw 12,000 head of cattle, sheep, hogs and horses from 34 sates and Canada.

Entries for individual classes for the show close November 1, while carloads of cattle, sheep and hogs close their books on November 22. Grain show and horse show entries close November 10.

Check Heating System Before Winter Comes

Defective chimneys, flues and stovepipes rank second as the cause of fire in Illinois farm houses.

Now that cold weather is arriving and fires are needed, insure your home against fire by giving your heating system a thorough checkup, says Dean Winter, fire prevention specialist at the Illinois college of agriculture.

Clean loose soot from the inside of the chimney, Winter suggests, to prevent "Burnouts" which start many roof fires. Repair all cracks in the chimney with cement mortar.

Brick up unused flue holes, or cover them with metal flue stops. Winter says one of the most dangerous practices is pasting wall paper over a metal flue stop. Be sure the heating unit is at least 18 inches away from the closest wall.

'Farm Town' On TV To Be Cheesy Saturday

More than 25 different kinds of cheese will be featured this Saturday night when that important dairy product takes the spotlight at "Farm Town, U. S. A.," the half hour television show presented to tell city folks more about farming and life on the farm.

Fred Galli, veteran cheesemaker from Monroe, Wis., will be present to talk about the cheeses and to demonstrate his cheesemaking prowess, according to Don Peasley, IAA radio relations.

"Farm Town, U. S. A." is presented at 8:30 p. m. each Saturday over WBKB (channel 4) by the IAA and the Pure Milk association. Realism is given the program by bringing real animals into the studio, recreating the farm in the city.

Taking cognizance of the hunting season, the program the following week will concern hunting and will offer advice and help city folks desiring to hunt on farms. Pheasants and other wild game will be brought to the studio. The following week, on November 8, corn harvesting will be brought into the spotlight and harvesting equipment will be discussed.

Annual Meeting Of IAA Planned For Nov. 17-20

An unusual amount of education, information and entertainment is in store for some 5,000 Illinois farmers and their wives when they convene in Chicago November 17-20 for the 38th annual meeting of the Illinois agricultural association.

Wilfred Shaw, secretary of the IAA, said the four-day meeting will afford farmers of Illinois a chance to review progress in this election year and to plan a program of action in the year ahead.

HIGHLIGHTS OF the convention will be reports of the activities of the affiliated companies of the IA and the annual address by President Charles B. Shuman Sullivan, at the general session Thursday, November 20. The IAA is the state-wide Farm Bureau organization.

Among the noted speakers who will appear at the IAA general session are Dr. Harold A. Bosley, minister of the First Methodist church, Evanston; John C. Lynn, legislative director, American farm bureau federation; and acting dean R. R. Hudelson of the University of Illinois college of agriculture, Shaw said.

RURAL YOUTH members who attend the annual meeting will select the state winner in the Rural Youth Talk Fest to be held November 18. That afternoon the young people will hear what "A Youth's Responsibility in His Community," is from Jesse Owens, famous track star.

Farm Bureau women folks also have a busy agenda planned. Main speaker at the Women's Conference to be held November 18, will be Raymond W. Miller, consultant to the food and agriculture organization of the United Nations. He will present an illustrated lecture titled "Dinner Tables Around the World."

To Recognize Nation's 4-H'ers On November 8

National 4-H club day, November 8, will honor the more than 57,000 Illinois 4-H club boys and girls for their hard work and accomplishments this year.

These rural young people will be honored in their own counties throughout the state during the week for their interest in club work, their efforts put forth on project work and the records they kept of their accomplishments.

County outstanding and project honor members are selected in each county and will be eligible to receive special pins and ribbons as county winners in the national contests. Completion of records has been high in Cook county this year, according to farm adviser Carl F. Mees.

Winter Problems on Farm Get Prompt Engineering Treatment

By IRA MILLER
Farm Electrification Bureau

A lot of us felt the same way a couple of months ago. We thought we'd had enough of summer, and could do with a bit of winter weather. Now we're not so sure. For fall's here, and winter's not far away.

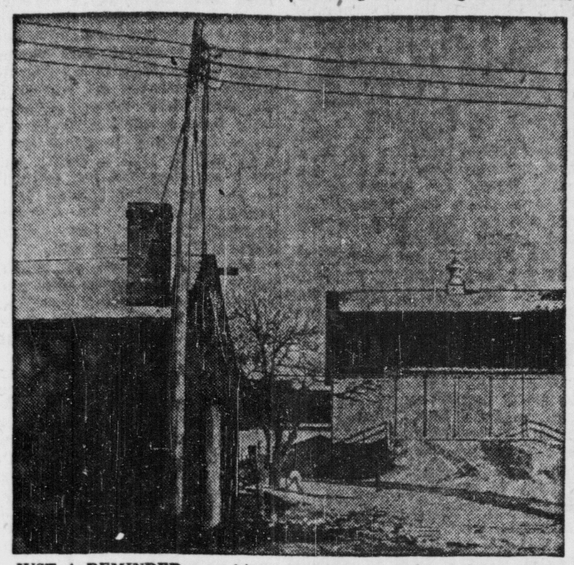
On the farm there's more to preparing for winter than checking the calking around the windows, ordering fuel and seeing that the furnace thermostat is in working order. Farmers have to worry about cold milk houses, frozen water lines and iced-over stock tanks along with the many other problems facing urban residents.

Here's how some northern farmers solve their winter problems:

COLD MILK HOUSES — Farmers in south central areas need less heat than those farther north, and find thermostatically controlled electric space heaters all that are required. They may be located on the floor or on a wall. If your farm is in a region where the temperature dips to zero and below, however, some other heating arrangement may be necessary. Some far northern farmers install heat lamps directly over their work areas for spot warmth, using space heaters for general heating purposes. Others convert their milk coolers into heat pumps. Some install small hot water radiators on the tops of over-size electric water heaters, and a few use industrial, fan-type heaters with adjustable thermostatic controls.

FROST PROTECTION OF PIPES —Exposed water pipes can be protected against freezing with soil heating cable. The cable is wrapped around the pipes, and a thermostat installed to keep the cable as warm as necessary. When used in a building, locate the thermostat in the coldest part of the line.

STOCK TANKS — Electric immersion heaters and de-icers are available to keep stock tanks open throughout the winter. Immersion heaters warm all of the water in the tank, while de-icers float on the surface and keep only a small drinking hole free of ice. Both are thermostatically controlled. Electrically heated drinking cups also are available and may be installed in open sheds or in feed lots. They fit into the tops of pipes about the size of an ordinary sewer tile and this pipe may be buried in the ground to the desired height for cattle, hogs or sheep.



JUST A REMINDER . . . it's easier to do something about winter before it comes.

LAW on the FARM

Highway Ditches

Township highway commissioners owe a duty to the public to try and keep the roads open and in good condition. One of their problems is drainage. Highways must be graded; many times they are higher than adjacent farmland, and thus interfere with natural drainage at many points along the highway.

The problem can be met in about three ways: by putting in adequate culverts where natural depressions cross the road, by constructing ditches to carry the water along the highways to an adequate outlet, or by acquiring the right to ditch across private property and reach an outlet. There is a statute giving commissioners the right to ". . . enter upon any land adjacent to any highway . . . for the purpose of opening any ditch . . . to or from the natural water course . . ." Also they have the right to ". . . drain any slough or pond on said highways, or to provide a more direct water course through or adjacent to a bridge or culvert. . ."

COMMISSIONERS ARE required first to seek the consent of the landowner, however. Following this they may apply to a justice of the peace to issue a summons and have the amount of damages to the landowner determined. Following a judgment, if no appeal is made within five days the commissioner, may enter the land. Illinois courts have upheld this law and among other things have held that:

1. The commissioners have no right to collect and carry along the road water which would naturally drain off in another direction, and discharge such accumulated water on an adjoining farm.

2. The same rules which apply to the drainage of a farm apply to the drainage of a road — except that highway commissioners may acquire such rights of drainage as they need be eminent domain proceedings.

3. Commissioners cannot obstruct a natural watercourse to the injury of an adjoining landowner nor legally authorize another to do so.

* * *

LANDOWNERS ARE entitled to have their surface waters enter a highway ditch at the point where it naturally flows: They cannot cause it to enter the ditch at any other point without the consent of he highway commissioner.

Other rules of drainage affecting both highway commissioners and adjoining property owners are discussed in Illinois circular 660. "Illinois Farm Drainage Law," available at the college of agriculture, Urbana.

Bankers Must Help Progress In Agriculture

It is up to the bankers of the country to see that agricultural methods keep on changing without interruption.

That's what Delos C. Johns, president of the Federal Reserve bank of St. Louis, told members of the Illinois bankers conference at the University of Illinois.

"As bankers, we must see we do not fail to keep our credit procedures and our attitudes toward agricultural credit abreast of changing conditions and technology," Johns said.

"IN NO other segment of our economy is it more important to adapt financing techniques to the expanding and evolving credit needs than in agriculture, the banker pointed out."

What kind and amount of agricultural and other financing Illinois farmers will need in the future, Johns did not attempt to name. But he emphasized the fact that bankers must learn and grow with their customers. They must try to stay ahead of the parade and not fall behind.

Baners must be alert to recognize changing farm conditions and must be able to see what financing is needed. Then they must be able and ready to meet the new requirements, Johns believes.

* * *

THE BANKER emphasized that Illinois farming today is big business and that the successful farmer must be as skilled in the use and management of money as he is in production practices. He will need help; and if the bankers are to supply that help, they must be as familiar with the problems of agriculture as they are with the problems of banking.

It won't be so easy for bankers to expand their credit in the future. But there will be plenty of credit for the needs of agriculture if bankers use available funds wisely, Johns said.

Feeder Cattle Need Rest After Trip

Newly arrived feeder cattle need a rest.

After your feeders arrive, put them in a drylot or a small pasture until they recover from the long ride, suggests H. G. Russell, extension livestock specialist at the Illinois College of Agriculture.

It will also help to feed hay or some other dry feed for a few days, Russell says. Keep the new feeders separate from the rest of the herd for a week or so, or as long as needed, until they are rested.

The younger the feeders and the farther the distance they have traveled, the harder the trip will be on them. Cattle or othert livestock are just like humans in that a long trip will tire them and lower their resistance to disease.

If some of your new feeders appear listless and show "droopy" ears, call your veterinarian right away to check them over. A veterinarian may be able to save some calves which might otherwise die.

Russell also suggests that you move quietly among your cattle to look them over once a day or so. You'll be able to spot any sick ones sooner. And they'll get used to you and become a gentle group of feeding cattle.

Smoking Point

Vegetable fats and oils are recommended for deep fat frying because their "smoking point" or temperature at which they will burn is high.

Handy Jim's FIXIN-UP TIPS For Farm and Home

Sturdy All-Purpose Barn

THE construction year for the average all-purpose barn was 1910. That means the average barn is a pretty old model, ramshackle in appearance and inefficient. Many farmers are replacing their old barns with a modern structure.

The soundly-planned building shown is 48 feet long, 34 feet wide and 35 feet high. It has modern lines and permits greater labor efficiency. Its construction cost and maintenance are low. Barns constructed of materials suggested in this plan have weathered through the years.

An outstanding feature is the use of Masonite ¼" Tempered Presdwood for both exterior and interior. Use of the 4 by 12-foot panels means an absolute minimum of joints and a big saving in construction labor. This material will not split or crack. Tempered Presdwood resists silage acids. It is structurally strong and both weather and wear-resistant.

On the second floor is a spacious haymow. The entire lower portion is insulated to protect stock from winter's cold and summer's heat. Six cow stalls are located on either side of a driveway. There are mangers, feed alleys and gutters for each group. Adjacent to the milking stalls are single pens for a cow and calf.

A flexible plan for the all-purpose barn may be obtained free by writing Farm Service Bureau, Suite 2039, 111 West Washington St., Chicago 2, Ill., and asking for No. AFB-162.

Bits O' Business

The hop crop this year will be about 61 million pounds, but demand is well below this. Some blame the increasing number of female guzzlers who like lighter beer (which requires fewer hops) . . . Lots of cranberry sauce to keep the roast turkey company. The 1952 cranberry crop is estimated at more than 900,000 barrels. . . . There has been a persistent downtrend in family farm workers since World War II, according to the Agriculture Department. The number has decreased by nearly 200,000 since 1946. This has forced farmers to turn increasingly to hired hands, putting their costs of production steadily higher.

Modern Etiquette

by ROBERTA LEE

Q. Is it considered proper to use bread for sopping up the gravy in one's dinner plate?

A. Yes, if done in the right way—by putting a small piece of bread down on the gravy, and then eating it with the fork as though it were any other helping on your plate.

Q. How should gifts and flowers received during an illness be acknowledged?

A. If the patient is too ill to acknowledge the gifts promptly, notes of thanks should be written as soon as possible after recovery.

Q. When the wedding is to be double-ring ceremony, does the bridegroom buy his own ring as well as that of his bride?

A. No; the bride buys his ring.

Q. If a man is forced by circumstances to send a woman whom he has been escorting home in a taxi, is he supposed to pay the taxi fare?

A. He most certainly is! He should inquire of the driver the approximate amount the fare will be, and then pay him, adding enough for a tip.

Q. What kind of flowers should a bride wear if she is married in a traveling costume and prefers not to carry an arm bouquet?

A. She may wear a corsage of orchids, gardenias, or any other flower that suits her fancy.

Q. If a man finds it necessary to introduce himself, does he put the "Mr." before his name?

A. No, he usually says, "I am John Black," or "My name is Black," unless of course, he has a title, as, "Dr. Black."

Q. Is it obligatory that refreshments of some kind be furnished after a wedding rehearsal?

A. While not obligatory, it is customary and a very nice thing to do. The refreshments are usually served after the rehearsal at the home of the bride—or the bridegroom invites the little party of attendants to some eating place.

Q. If a person asks you how old you are, or what your salary is, or some such personal question, what should you do?

A. You are perfectly privileged to reply, "There are some questions that I prefer not to answer." It is only a very rude, ill-bred and tactless person who would ask such questions.

Q. When unfolding a napkin at the dinner table, should it be done above the table or below it?

A. Below the table.

Q. Is a person obliged to give the reason for declining an invitation?

A. While not exactly obligated, it still is the gracious thing to offer some reason. Otherwise, it may be inferred that you do not care to prolong the friendship.

Q. When no ashtrays have been provided at a dinner table after completion of the meal, is it all right for a guest to light up anyway and deposit his ashes on one of the used dishes?

A. Never! It is much better to refrain from smoking rather than to use a hostess' good dish for an ashtray. A thoughtful hostess, however, will always provide ashtrays for her guests.

Q. Should toothpicks be placed on the dinner table?

A. Most certainly not! Since it is not good form to be seen using a toothpick in public, they do not have any place on the table.

Q. Is it proper for a divorcee to have bridesmaid attendants at her second wedding?

A. No; her wedding must be as simple as possible, and she should have just one attendant.

Q. Is it obligatory for a bride to entertain those friends who have given her wedding gifts?

A. While this is not exactly obligatory, most brides are eager to entertain their friends in their new homes. So far as "obligation" is concerned, she has fulfilled that by writing her sincere "thank you" notes for the gifts.

Q. Can you please tell me how to fold napkins into various fancy designs?

A. I could probably suggest a few "fancy" designs, but this practice is frowned upon by good society. It is far preferable to make a plain, square fold of the napkin.

Q. Should the man or the woman, who have just met, say, "I'm glad to have met you" when leaving each other?

A. The man—and she should respond with a smile and "thank you."

Q. Is a host or hostess expected to pay for a guest's long-distance telephone calls?

A. Most certainly not. If it is necessary for a guest to make such calls, he should inquire of the operator at the end of the conversation what the charges were, and then remit these to the host or hostess.

Q. Is the double-ring marriage ceremony considered proper these days?

A. Whether the man wears a wedding ring or not is entirely a matter of personal taste, and not of etiquette. He may or may not wear a wedding ring, and in either case he will be perfectly proper.

Q. When leaving the dinner table to dance, what should one do with one's napkin?

A. Leave the napkin unfolded beside the plate.

Q. Should the escort of a woman acknowledge the courtesy if, when entering a crowded bus or streetcar, another man offers his seat to the woman?

A. Yes, by all means. He should lift his hat in acknowledgment.

Q. Is it proper to insert in the newspaper an announcement of a broken engagement?

A. Yes, if an announcement of the engagement was made in the paper. A proper announcement would read something like this: "Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Jones announce that by mutual consent the engagement between their daughter, Mary Ellen, and Thomas L. Fox is at an end."

Q. How are canapes eaten?

A. When canapes are served before a meal (with cocktails in the living room), they are eaten with the fingers. At the table they are eaten, as are other hors d'oeuvres, with a fork.

Q. Should letters of invitation be sent to a home christening?

A. These invitations are usually telephoned, or else friends are personally asked. But it is also correct and polite to write notes.

Q. How long should a widow wear deep mourning after the death of her husband?

A. It is seldom nowadays that deep mourning is worn. In fact, it is perfectly all right to wear a touch of white, such as collar and cuffs, with dark clothing. The usual time is a year.

Q. Should one select a wedding gift that is something only the bride can use, if one does not know the bridegroom?

A. Regardless of how well one knows either of the principals, the wedding gift should be one that can be used and enjoyed by both the bride and bridegroom.

Q. When a woman is wearing gloves, should she remove the right one before shaking hands?

A. No.

Q. Is it considered proper for a bride-to-be to call her friends by telephone to request that they serve as bridesmaids at her wedding?

A. This is really not the proper way. She should call on each of her friends personally to make this request. Of course, in the case of out-of-town friends, a friendly note of request is in good order.

Q. Is it permissible to examine the various dishes on a cafeteria counter before selecting a certain one?

A. Certainly. But one should not finger the saucers, or be conspicuous about selecting one that seems to contain a larger portion than the others.

Q. When a young man accompanies two girls to the theater, is it all right for him to sit between them?

A. Yes, unless there is an aisle seat. Then he should, of course, sit next to the aisle.

Set Dates For College Tests

Colonel Paul G. Armstrong, Illinois state director of selective service, announced today that the selective service college qualification test will be given on December 4, 1952 and April 23, 1953 at 42 colleges in Illinois including ten in Chicago. Local boards use the test scores, or the class standing of students as reported by the colleges, to determine eligibility for consideration for deferment.

Only full time college students who have not previously taken the test are eligible to apply for testing on one of the above dates, Colonel Armstrong emphasized. Students may obtain application blanks, special mailing envelopes and information bulletins concerning the test at any local board, not necessarily their own local board.

APPLICATIONS FOR the December 4 test must be postmarked not later than midnight November 1, 1952 and for the April 23 test not later than midnight March 9, 1953.

Colonel Armstrong advised students whose academic year will end in January 1953 to take the December 4th test so they will have a test score in their files before the end of their academic year, at which time their boards will reconsider their cases to determine whether they should be deferred as students. The present criteria for deferment as an undergraduate are either a satisfactory score (70 or above) on the test, or specified rank in class (upper half of the male freshman class, upper two-thirds of the male sophomore class, or upper three-fourths of the male junior class). However, student deferments are granted at the discretion of the local boards and it is not mandatory on the boards to follow the criteria, Col. Armstrong said.

Students currently deferred on the basis of test scores or class standing number about 15,000 in Illinois, according to Colonel Armstrong. He said that the standards for deferment may be raised at any time when increasing manpower demands require it.

Installment credit has risen from $5,500,000,000 outstanding in 1940 to $13,500,000,000 in 1951.

COOK COUNTY DELINQUENT TAX LIST

Wheeling Township

OFFICE OF COUNTY TREASURER OF COOK COUNTY AND EX-OFFICIO COUNTY COLLECTOR OF COOK COUNTY, ILLINOIS.

Advertisement and Notice of Collector of Cook County of Appliaction for Sale of Delinquent Lands and Lots for General Taxes for the year 1951, and Notice of Sale Thereof and application for judgment, fixing the correct amount of any tax paid under protest and for order for sale on such payments, as provided by law.

Wheeling Township, Illinois
October 23, 1952

NOTICE is hereby given that the said Collector of Cook County will apply to the County Court of Cook County on the third day of November, A. D. 1952 for judgment against lands and lots hereinafter described as being delinquent upon which taxes remain due and unpaid, or personal property taxes charged thereon, as noted in this advertisement, remain due and unpaid, for said taxes, interest and costs and for an order to sell said lands and lots for the satisfaction thereof according to law (excepting from said judgment and order of sale the cases which are included in this advertisement for sale only under former unexecuted judgments and orders for sale as may be noted in this advertisement.)

Notice is also given that an application will be made for judgment fixing the correct amount of any tax paid under protest.

Notice is further herein and hereby given that on the second Monday next succeeding the third day of November, A. D. 1952 to-wit, the seventeenth day of November, A. D. 1952 at the hour of 8 O'clock A. M. all said lands and lots hereinbefore described for sale of which an order shall be made or has heretofore been made and not executed as noted, will be exposed to public sale at the County Building of Cook County, where the County Court is held in said County, for the amount of taxes, interest and costs due thereon respectively.

The following is a list of delinquent lands and lots upon which the taxes remain due and unpaid, the name of the owners, where known, the total amount due thereon (excluding delinquent special assessments separately advertised) and the year or years for which the same is due.

(The total amount due in this application on each tract or parcel of land or lot is the sum of the amounts appearing due in this advertisement.)

EXPLANATORY NOTE — In this list in all places where no other notation is made the figures in the column headed "$" (meaning dollars) and the "cts" (meaning cents) represent the taxes due and unpaid for the year A.D. 1951. Where the letter "F" is placed to the left of the figures in this column it is intended for an abbreviation of the word "forfeiture" and denotes that the amounts set down to the right of the same are the amounts due and unpaid on said lands and lots for which said lands and lots have been previously forfeited to the State. When back taxes are extended they are indicated by the letters "B. T."

Payments of taxes made after printer's copies are sent to publishers for listing, and appear as delinquent in this advertisement, will be satisfied in judgment records before sale.

Where no description of property (either land, lot, block or portion thereof) appears in said list to the left of and opposite the figures in said column headed "$" (meaning dollars) and "cts" (meaning cents) said figures relate to the land, lot, block, or portion thereof last above described appearing to the left of the opposite said "$" and "cts" column. "Name" in the words "name" where used in the list means name of the owner of said delinquent lands or lots. "desc" in said words means description of said lands or lots.

remain due and unpaid, the name of the owners, where known, the total amount due thereon (excluding delinquent special assessments separately advertised) and the year or years for which the same is due.

(The total amount due in this application on each tract or parcel of land or lot is the sum of the amounts appearing due in this advertisement.)

EXPLANATORY NOTE — In this list in all places where no other notation is made the figures in the column headed "$" (meaning dollars) and the "cts" (meaning cents) represent the taxes due and unpaid for the year A.D. 1951. Where the letter "F" is placed to the left of the figures in this column it is intended for an abbreviation of the word "forfeiture" and denotes that the amounts set down to the right of the same are the amounts due and unpaid on said lands and lots for which said lands and lots have been previously forfeited to the State. When back taxes are extended they are indicated by the letters "B. T."

Payments of taxes made after printer's copies are sent to publishers for listing, and appear as delinquent in this advertisement, will be satisfied in judgment records before sale.

Where no description of property (either land, lot, block or portion thereof) appears in said list to the left of and opposite the figures in said column headed "$" (meaning dollars) and "cts" (meaning cents) said figures relate to the land, lot, block, or portion thereof last above described appearing to the left of the opposite said "$" and "cts" column. "Name" in the words "name" where used in the list means name of the owner of said delinquent lands or lots. "desc" in said words means description of said lands or lots.

DELINQUENT COOK COUNTY TAX LIST
Schaumburg Township

OFFICE OF COUNTY TREASURER OF COOK COUNTY AND EX-OFFICIO COUNTY COLLECTOR OF COOK COUNTY, ILLINOIS.

Advertisement and Notice of Collector of Cook County of Appliaction for Sale of Delinquent Lands and Lots for General Taxes for the year 1951, and Notice of Sale Thereof and application for judgment, fixing the correct amount of any tax paid under protest and for order for sale on such payments, as provided by law.

Schaumburg Township, Illinois
October 23, 1952

NOTICE is hereby given that the said Collector of Cook County will apply to the County Court of Cook County on the third day of November, A. D. 1952 for judgment against lands and lots hereinafter described as being delinquent upon which taxes remain due and unpaid, or personal property taxes charged thereon, as noted in this advertisement, remain due and unpaid, for said taxes, interest and costs and for an order to sell said lands and lots for the satisfaction thereof according to law (excepting from said judgment and order of sale the cases which are included in this advertisement for sale only under former unexecuted judgments and orders for sale as may be noted in this advertisement.)

Notice is also given that an application will be made for judgment fixing the correct amount of any tax paid under protest.

Notice is further herein and hereby given that on the second Monday next succeeding the third day of November, A. D. 1952 to-wit, the seventeenth day of November, A. D. 1952 at the hour of 8 O'clock A. M. all said lands and lots hereinbefore described for sale of which an order shall be made or has heretofore been made and not executed as noted, will be exposed to public sale at the County Building of Cook County, where the County Court is held in said County, for the amount of taxes, interest and costs due thereon respectively.

The following is a list of delinquent lands and lots upon which the taxes remain due and unpaid, the name of the owners, where known, the total amount due thereon (excluding delinquent special assessments separately advertised) and the year or years for which the same is due.

(The total amount due in this application on each tract or parcel of land or lot is the sum of the amounts appearing due in this advertisement.)

EXPLANATORY NOTE — In this list in all places where no other notation is made the figures in the column headed "$" (meaning dollars) and the "cts" (meaning cents) represent the taxes due and unpaid for the year A.D. 1951. Where the letter "F" is placed to the left of the figures in this column it is intended for an abbreviation of the word "forfeiture" and denotes that the amounts set down to the right of the same are the amounts due and unpaid on said lands and lots have been previously forfeited to the State. When back taxes are extended they are indicated by the letters "B. T."

Payments of taxes made after printer's copies are sent to publishers for listing, and appear as delinquent in this advertisement, will be satisfied in judgment records before sale.

Where no description of property (either land, lot, block or portion thereof) appears in said list to the left of and opposite the figures in said column headed "$" (meaning dollars) and "cts" (meaning cents) said figures relate to the land, lot block, or portion thereof last above described appearing to the left of the opposite said "$" and "cts" column. "Name" in the words "name" where used in the list means name of the owner of said delinquent lands or lots. "desc" in said words means description of said lands or lots.
